The Great Work of the Century Achieved---The Cable of the Atlantic Telegraph Laid!

Such was the joy-inspiring message that came over the wires from Trinity Bay yesterday afternoon. The news flew over the town from mouth to mouth with almost electric speed. Could it be true? each man asked of his neighbor. After all the disappointment and delay that have attended the enterprise, has it proved victorious at last? was the universal thought. And when, on sober inquiry, it was proved that the message was authentic—that the great work, if not quite an accomplished fact, was so near it that failure was hardly possible, the general joy was as great as if a signal victory had been gained over an enemy by the national arms. A subscription was at once started to defray the expense of firing a hundred guns, and the dollars were liberally contributed for the purpose. Early in the evening—all doubt by that time having been removed as to the complete success of the undertaking—the guns were fired, and a large bonfire was kindled in La Salle street opposite the Telegraph office. The stars and stripes and England's flag at the same time appropriately mingled their folds above the street.

It will be seen by reference to our evening dispatches, that the event caused universal rejoicing throughout the land.

But let us see what is the exact nature of the news. The dispatch comes from Mr. CYRUS W. FIELD, who was himself on board the Niagara. He has accompanied the expedition from first to last, been a witness of its failures, and now has the high satisfaction of announcing its final triumph. The fleet sailed from Queenstown on the 17th ult. Mid-ocean was reached on the 29th ult. The cable was spliced, and at 1 P. M. of that day the two vessels began at once to pay out, the Agamemnon heading for Valentia Bay on the coast of Ireland, the Niagara for Trinity Bay on the coast of Newfoundland, where she arrived safely and successfully on Wednesday, the work of laying her portion of the cable having occupied about a week.

We have also news of the safe arrival of the Agamemnon in Valentia Bay. Mr. Field writes to the President that as soon as the ends of the cable shall have been connected with the land lines, Queen Victoria will send him a message.

It is impossible to exaggerate the importance of this great event. It is the grandest work of a century unparalleled in artistic and scientific wonders—the crowning achievement of the Anglo-Saxon race. No other age, no other race, could even have conceived the stupendous project. As to executing it, supposing it to have been conceived, it would have been as impossible for any other race or age as to establish communication with the farthest planet of the solar system. The Atlantic Telegraph may be regarded as the flower of successive civilizations, all culminating in that aggregate of intelligence and all-conquering skill which is the distinguishing glory of the Nineteenth Century. It could no more have been achieved until now than the century plant could flower before its appointed time. The ancients accomplished wonders in dealing with great material facts, as colossal ruins and enduring pyramids abundantly testify; but their genius was not subtle enough to grasp that almost spiritual force of nature which we now send on hourly errands to the ends of the earth and through the profound depths of the ocean. It is only a little more than three-quarters of a century since the present age began to master its laws; the electric telegraph, as a practical aid to business and the diffusion of intelligence, dates back scarcely more than a single decade. The spark from Franklin's key but very faintly prophesied the flash through the cable of the Atlantic Telegraph, yet it was one of the necessary steps toward the grand consummation. Three generations of savans and artists were required to fan that little spark to a world-wide flame. The glorious reality for which they toiled and struggled was hidden from their view; yet they toiled on nothing daunted, impelled by a thousand varying motives, and feeling an ample reward for their toil in the fragmentary glimpses of the truth vouchsafed to them. The great Master of Art and Science alone saw the end of their labors, and by successive steps led them to that glorious consummation which we so joyfully hail to-day.

One by one the marvels of science confound the complacent or the bigoted incredulity of the world. Everything of supreme value in science and invention has fought its way through martyrdom to fame. Not to look beyond our own time, it is sufficient to refer to Fulton's efforts to introduce the now universal steamboat; to Stephenson's trials and labors in perfecting the no less universal railroad; to ocean steamships—all of which were demonstrated to be sheer impossibilities and their advocates shown to be a set of raving lunatics. A multitude of astute geniuses—and among them Mr. Tal. P. Shaffner, of telegraphic notoriety—have also demonstrated, entirely to their own satisfaction, that the Atlantic Telegraph would prove a failure. Let Incredulity pass without a answer hereafter. The arcana of nature and the genius of man are vastly more full of wonders and capabilities than any of us have yet conceived. With Mr. Field, let us reverently thank Divine Providence for the blessings so far vouchsafed to the world through this medium, and cultivate an abounding faith in those which are yet in the future.

Affairs of the Illinois Central Railroad Company.

The London Times of the 23d ult. has a long article under its money head on the subject of the Illinois Central Railroad, giving a sketch of the history of the enterprise, and of the circumstances which led to the recent call for an installment of twenty per cent. on the stock. It concludes as follows:

> Yet, unless some extraordinary mistakes or deceptions have to be brought to light, the ultimate promise to all concerned is little short of that which was held out at starting. All the casualties now pressing are mainly of an accidental and temporary character, and those who are familiar with the changes which a few years will effect on a line of railway through such a State as Illinois, can still scarcely hesitate to indulge great anticipations as to the property, which hardly anything but gross dishonesty can disappoint.
>
> At all events, if this work proves to be a delusion, the fact must be held established that under no conceivable circumstances can American railways be made to pay, and the benefit will have been attained of putting an end to all further losses in connection with them. Upon its results, therefore, interests of wider scope depend than could attach to the ordinary proceedings of a single undertaking, however large.
>
> Its history will thus be watched by English investors, and it may be hoped some further developments will soon be arrived at.
>
> This afternoon a meeting has been held at the London Tavern, at which it has been resolved to appoint a permanent London Committee, and also to endeavor to make provision for a regular audit at New York on behalf of the European shareholders. It has likewise been determined that a deputation of shareholders should proceed to New York to prevent the company being pledged to further expenditure without the previous concurrence of the London Committee; and finally, a general opinion was expressed that the railway is now in a condition in which, after the payment of the call of 20 per cent. about to fall due, no more money should be required.

The West Side Outrage.

In another column we give the conclusion of the trial of the parties charged with the brutal and dangerous assault perpetrated some months since upon Henry M. Terrific and Disastrous Hail Storm.

[From the Journal of yesterday.]

We learn that one of the most frightful and disastrous hail storms that has ever been known in the West, visited the town of Dwight, in Livingston County, on the line of the St. Louis, Alton & Chicago Railroad, last Saturday. The facts are scarcely credible, but we vouch for their correctness as stated below: The hail stones were like pieces of cut ice, and some of them were seven inches in diameter. They fell in perfect torrents, striking down cattle, men, shrubbery and crops as if beaten down by a shower of stones. Thousands of acres of corn that was getting along finely, with the promise of an excellent yield, were cut down as if by reapers, and rendered a total loss to the farmers. Orchards were stripped, and gardens and oat and wheat fields beaten to the earth.

Mr. John C. Spencer, who owns a large farm at Dwight, informs us that he had 240 acres of corn, which is all ruined; also 550 acres of wheat and 110 acres of oats, which met the same fate.

Scarcely a whole window pane can be found in the town, all having been broken by the hail. Window sashes and roofs were also in many cases badly cut and split. The cattle that happened to be in the fields at the time, had gashes cut into their flesh inches in length, and we hear of at least one man who was so badly cut and bruised by the heavy hail stones that he is laid up, and not expected to live.

After the storm, we are assured, the earth was completely covered with hail, inches in depth. How far the storm extended has not yet been ascertained, but it appears to have passed across the St. Louis Railroad about three miles, but how far from the road on either side we are not advised. The amount of the damage done in the immediate vicinity of Dwight alone, is estimated at thousands of dollars.

We learn from Sterling, Whiteside County, that on the same day a hail storm, similar to the above in its character and effects, visited that vicinity, doing vast damage.

THE CITY.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—We learn that a little son of Samuel Wallace, keeper of a grocery on the corner of Kinzie and Market streets, in the West Division, was very seriously injured yesterday forenoon by being caught between the rail of the draw of Kinzie street bridge and the railing of the abutment, while the bridge was being closed.

THE TELEGRAPH CABLE.—The cheering news received here early yesterday afternoon relative to the completion of the laying of the Atlantic Telegraph Cable, was everywhere throughout our city made the theme of congratulation and gratification. At sunset a salute of one hundred guns was fired from the Lake shore. The expense was met by a subscription of $125, at the Tremont House.

"WORK AND BREAD—THE COMING WINTER AND THE POOR."—We are glad to see that the matter of the aid ordinarily furnished to the destitute in our city, in the winter season, is receiving a timely discussion, when with so great a saving in expenditure so much more can be done. A pamphlet essay with the above title, by "A member of the Chicago Bar," as its title page informs us, has been laid upon our table. We have not had time to go very deeply into the author's reasoning but commend it to the reading it will repay.

PURE WATER—A NEW AND EXCELLENT INVENTION.—Dr. Hargesheimer, German apothecary at No. 314 South Clark street in this city, called our attention yesterday to a new and valuable apparatus just completed and perfected by him after years of study and care, for the complete purification and filtration of water. On his premises we ourselves saw the experiment tried of passing through the filter a pail-full of the ordinary lake water, which, after a very short interval, was drawn from the faucet below, as pure as the purest spring water.

Dr. H. is taking measures to secure a patent for his filter, which, if it realizes what he claims, and in ordinary practice half we saw it accomplish yesterday, it will be most valuable to himself and to the public. The advantages of perfectly pure water, and the positive evils resulting, particularly throughout the West and Northwest, from the use of turbid and impure water, make all such inventions as that referred to of more than simply pecuniary value.

CHICAGO MECHANICS' UNION—NINTH ANNUAL FAIR.—At the regular monthly meeting of the Mechanics' Institute, on Tuesday evening, several vacancies occurring in the Board of Directors, Messrs. G. A. Flagg, J. H. Gerould, and N. S. Cushing, were elected to supply their places. This Institution is now in a more flourishing condition than ever before, which is shown by their having elect six-three members, at their last monthly meeting, all of whom have paid their membership.

The Ninth Exhibition of the Institute will be opened in this city on the 4th day of September next, at which time the members of the Institute invite the Manufacturers, Mechanics, Artists, Inventors, and others from all portions of the Union, to contribute specimens of their ingenuity, skill and taste.

From present indications, it is believed that an extensive display will be made, fairly representing the great progress in the Industrial Arts of the country, far exceeding that of any previous year. The Exhibition will be held on the premises of the Institute, (corner of Clark and Washington streets,) comprising the new Hall and adjoining yard, on which will be erected sheds for the protection of Machinery and Implements, affording ample room for all.

The Institute have gained a large advantage the past year in thus having secured premises of their own whereon to hold their Exhibitions, and we trust that of the present year will be an entire success.

The Directors announce that the Hall will be open for the reception of goods from Monday morning, August 30th, until the evening of Saturday, September 4th. On the evening of the 4th of the 4th of September, the Exhibition will be formally opened for the reception of visitors, and be continued day and evening until the 17th. The hours of admittance will be from 9 o'clock A. M. to 11 o'clock P. M.

THE WEST SIDE OUTRAGE.

FLOGGING A SCHOOLMASTER BY CONTRACT

Testimony of the Contractors in Full.

DOOLITTLE AND ALLEN CONVICTED.

RECORDER'S COURT.

People vs. Louis A. Doolittle and Alfred W. Allen.

This trial continued to excite a deep interest yesterday throughout its whole course. The high character of Mr. Keith—the unfortunate teacher, the social position of Mr. Doolittle, charged with hiring the assault, and the brutality and deliberation in the outrage, made the case one of a very different character prove the frequent trials for assault in this Court. We give the evidence of Theodore S. Allen, brother of the prisoner, and head contractor in the transaction, which was crowded out of our issue yesterday.

FIRST DAY—AUGUST FOURTH.

Theodore S. Allen called and sworn—examined by Mr. Haven.

Q. Are you acquainted with Samuel Smith? A. Yes.

Q. With Alfred Allen? A. Yes, he is my brother.

Q. With Mr. Doolittle? A. Yes, I have known him eight or nine years.

Q. Do you recollect the time Mr. Keith was assaulted at the school house? A. I don't remember the time exactly, I think it was on Friday.

Q. Do you know of Doolittle's giving any money to Alfred Allen and Smith? A. Yes, he gave Alfred $5 once. He gave me $6 at one time to give to Alfred; I didn't see him give Alfred the first $5.

Q. What was that money for? A. To clear out, I suppose.

Q. Was this before Mr. Keith was whipped? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did he give you any money to give to Smith? A. Yes.

Q. Where was you then? A. In Mr. Doolittle's office. This was a little while before Mr. Keith was whipped—two or three days. I don't know exactly. He gave me money a little after Keith was whipped. He gave me $4 and then $6 to give to my brother.

Q. What was you to clear out for? A. For whipping the schoolmaster I suppose. The first time I went to his house, it was to see about some carpenter work. He said he wanted this Keith whipped, for he had turned his boy out of school. He asked me if I knew anybody that would do it. I told him I did. I got my brother and Smith for him. Then I went over the same day he said he expected them the day the whipping was done. I went over to Mr. Doolittle's house, and then we walked up towards the school house, and we heard an awful racket in there, and run in. Brother and Smith were by the schoolmaster and his face was all blood. I didn't see them strike him. Brother was drunk, and Smith had a stick, and a school boy was trying to hit Smith.

Q. Who went in with you? A. Mr. Doolittle; three carpenters got in before me; the carpenters had hold of brother and were going down; Doolittle took brother down and we went towards the Park, and they took Smith towards the steps; Doolittle got him out; he sent a boy after his buggy and drove up to his house with him; I followed them; brother lost his hat and I put my hat on his head; I had to get out back to get my hat, then he drove up to the house; that evening Mr. Doolittle came up with a couple of hats; a plug and a black hat and gave them to us; one to me and one to my brother.

Q. What did your brother, Smith and you do? A. Doolittle locked them up in a room and told them to stay there.

Q. Where? A. At our house; he locked up Smith and Alfred.

Q. When did you see Mr Doolittle again? A. I saw him a little while after, in his office.

Q. What was then done? A. Nothing was done except that he said I must keep out of the way, and he gave my father a little change—fifty cents or a dollar.

Q. Did you hear any conversation previous to that about how he was to be licked? A. He said he would like to have Mr Keith whipped so that he could not teach school for a week.

Q. Was anybody else present? A. No not when he wanted the schoolmaster whipped. He told me to get somebody to do it.

Q. When did you see Smith and Alfred again after that? A. I went right home and saw them.

Q. What was done? A. They came right down the same day.

Q. Where is Smith now? A. I don't know. I suppose he has run away to get rid of this. They took me up for stealing a gun.

Q. Who has charged you with stealing the gun? A. Smith and Alfred.

Q. Where did you and Alfred and Smith go to when you left the city and went out in the country? A. Out past Lyons—about 5 miles beyond.

Q. When was that? A. A little while after the fight at the School House—two or three days after it.

Q. Who sent you out there? A. Mr. Doolittle told us to clear out—to go away.

Cross-examined by Mr. Drummond—Q. What day in the week was that fight, did you say? A. It was towards the last of the week—on Friday, in the afternoon about 2 or 3 o'clock—maybe 1 or 2 o'clock; I didn't have a time-piece; I had a conversation with Mr. Doolittle that day in the forenoon at his house; his wife was there and a fellow named Charley O'Hara; he was an old acquaintance of mine, and I guess I talked with him about the scrape; there was a little boy there too; I went over from there and told brother and the rest of them at the house about it; I told them Mr. Doolittle wanted them to whip the schoolmaster; I saw Smith, my brother and the folks there; that is my father's house; he was there, and Smith came soon after—an hour or two afterwards.

Q. Did it take you an hour and a half to make this arrangement about fighting the schoolmaster? A. I guess it took about that time. I started out after dinner. I told Smith, my brother, father, mother—all of them, that Mr. Doolittle wanted the schoolmaster whipped. We didn't talk about anything else. The conversation that morning was the first I had with D. about it. I don't know what month it was; it was on Good Friday.

Q. When did D. give you money afterwards? A. The next day or two I guess; he gave me $4 at one time, and $3 at another; it was good money, paper money—two one dollar bills and a three; that was the first money I received; he gave mother a dollar the night after.

Q. What was this money for? A. To clear out. We were going to Iowa; he gave me $6 to give to my brother; in all he gave me $15 or $16, and I gave it to mother, brother and myself; he gave me $4 and then $3 afterwards.

Q. Have you frequently talked about what you were to swear to? A. No, sir, never; not with Mr. Williams; we were out beyond Lyons two or three days; we came back together; we bought home a few birds; we had a single barrelled gun that brother bought.

Q. Then they were mistaken when they took you up for stealing? A. Yes. Smith took it.

Q. Has Capt. Kennedy or anybody else been talking with you in jail about what you were to swear to? A. No, he hasn't; I don't know him; I have been in jail about nine weeks, and I have got nearly insane; I have been there so long; they say I was put there for stealing that gun.

Q. Didn't Mr. Williams get you to come in here and swear against Mr. Doolittle, if they would let you off? A. No, Sir, nothing only I was subpœnaed as a witness; I never heard of a bargain.

Q. Do you know Mr Runnion, a lawyer? didn't you tell him you would swear against Doolittle and be released? A. No, I told him I was subpœnaed to swear against him; I told him I didn't want to swear against Doolittle, because I had known Mr Doolittle a good while, and he was a friend of mine; I swore against him before the Grand Jury; I will be 18 the 18th of next November. (The cross-examination was continued at great length, but was chiefly a repetition of what had been said).

Direct examination resumed by Mr. Haven.

Q. Was there any person applied to you while in jail to plead guilty of that charge of stealing the gun? A. Yes.

Q. Who was it? A. Mr. Runnion and that man Drummond here; he said nothing could save me.

Q. Did they want you to plead guilty at the last term? A. Yes; they said nothing could save me; I said I didn't care; I would go down a year any way; they came there separately; he asked me if I stole the gun, and I told him that Smith and me were together, and Smith took the gun and asked me if I didn't want to shoot it; he said there were five or six going to swear against me; Runnion said he heard I was going to swear against Doolittle, but he didn't care; Drummond said nothing would save me.

Q. (By the Court.) Did you employ Drummond to act as your counsel? A. No, sir, nor my father nor mother neither.

Mr Drummond—His father and mother both did.

Witness—That is what my father says—that they didn't.

Q. Has Runnion done anything for your father? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where is he (the father.) A. In the next room, charged with counterfeiting.

Q. Was Runnion Mr. Doolittle's attorney before the magistrate? A. I don't know, only down in the jail Drummond came around and said he heard he was Doolittle's lawyer. I never heard it before.

Court adjourned.

SECOND DAY—AUG. 5.

Isaiah H. Williams called and sworn. Am an officer of the city; have known Doolittle for a year or two but not intimately; have seen Allen for two or three years; I arrested both of them; I arrested Allen in the latter part of May; search had been made in Allen's and Smith's houses; I arrested Allen next door to his father's house, in the back yard; we had been on the look out at various places for a week; and I ascertained that Allen had got to town the night before I made the arrest. Then I took the horse and buggy and we went up there on May street and hitched the horse about a block and a half off, and I told Kauffman who was with me, to go through the alley. I went to the front door of Allen's father's house and it was locked. This was about half-past nine or ten o'clock. I heard shuffling inside. In three or four minutes the door was opened by Allen, the father, and I said, "Your son has got back?" He says "No." I said, "Yes, he got back last night." After putting it to him for sometime, he acknowledged he had come home, and was over at Fowler's, a block and a half farther, and he would go and get him. He started out of the front door, and I made communication with Kauffman. He said somebody was in the water closet. Then I saw the window of the back kitchen open so that anybody could get out. I went to the privy and found Allen, arrested him and brought him here. This was three or four weeks after the assault. We have searched Smith's house two or three times, but havn't found him.

Q Have you had had a conversation with Alfred Allen in reference to his having employed Mr Drummond to defend Theodore? A I had a conversation with Allen (the father) and he told me that he never employed him in the world, but Mr Doolittle wanted him to get Mr Drummond to see to his case. He said he would not employ him. They were trying to get the boy off he knew and he would not consent to it. Allen, the defendant, stated to me often that he had done this thing.

The witness was asked to detail the statement of Allen, made at the time of his arrest. The counsel for the defence asked the Court to instruct the witness to confine his evidence to what Allen stated respecting himself alone and his own participation in the affray; which the Court refused, but reserved an opinion as to the competency of such evidence. The witness stated that Allen admitted that he did the act but that he was hired to do it. Last clause objected to. Objection sustained and evidence ruled out.

Witness—Allen said he never knew Keith before; he didn't know there was such a man living, and he didn't know his name.

Cross examined.—Allen, the father, told me this morning in jail, he didn't employ Drummond; I am in the employ of the city on the regular police, and have been since the 22d of May. It was after that that I took this thing up—after Bradley and I dissolved partnership. I presume my present engagement will last during the Administration. I like the employment tolerably well when there is plenty of it. I consider mine an honest occupation.

Alonzo Torrey called and sworn. Am an omnibus driver for Parmalee; have known Doolittle for three years.

Q. Did you ever hear a conversation between Doolittle and others in reference to Mr. Keith? A. I did; I think it was something over two years ago. It was a few days after Mr. Keith turned his boy out of school, or told him to wash his face, or something of the kind. It was only a little—

Objected to. Objection overruled. Excepted to.

I heard Doolittle say that he would either lick Keith, or get him licked or thrashed. Probably 15 or 20 persons were present. It was at the Bull's Head Hotel.

Cross-examined.—Q. Did Mr. Doolittle state his reasons? A. He said Mr. Keith had turned his boy out of school to get his face washed and hair combed.

Q. Didn't he say that if he touched his boy again, he would either whip him or have him whipped? A. I don't know but he did, but I could not say positively about it.

Q. Was not Mr. Doolittle narrating the manner in which he turned his boy out of school, and didn't he say if he did it again he would whip him or have him whipped. A. He might have said so.

Henry Kauffman called and sworn—Is an officer. He corroborated the testimony of Mr. Williams as to the manner of the arrest of Allen; also that "He said he whipped the schoolmaster, that he felt sorry for it, and after he got home he broke everything to pieces in his own house. He had got himself in trouble for another man, and he felt sorry for it."

Theodore S Allen recalled for additional cross-examination—Q. Did you in jail tell Runnion that you were going to swear against Mr. Doolittle, that you overheard Mr Doolittle and your brother making a bargain for your brother to whip the schoolmaster? A. I didn't hear Mr. Doolittle and my brother make any bargain.

Q. Didn't you tell Runnion so? A. I told Runnion I was subpœnaed to swear against him.

Q. Didn't you tell him what I said? A. No, sir.

Direct examination resumed:

Q. How many times did Runnion come to see you in jail? A. I should think three or four times; I never talked with him about it but twice.

Q. Who introduced the subject? A. Runnion said he understood I was going to swear against Doolittle. Prosecution rested.

Defence proceeded to introduce their evidence.

Floyd Higgins called and sworn.—Knows the character of Theodore C. Allen for truth and veracity in the neighborhood where he resides; it is bad, and I would not believe him under oath; have known Mr. Doolittle for 8 or 9 years; knew his character as a peaceable and quiet citizen; have never heard anything to the contrary; have had no particular dealing with him.

Edward Higgins called and sworn.—The character of Theodore S. Allen for truth and veracity in the neighborhood where he resides is bad, and I would not believe him under oath.

Cross examined.—I have heard various persons speak of him as a bad boy; truth and veracity was not talked of particularly.

Q. He was only a bad boy in the neighborhood; but a good boy to hire to whip a schoolmaster? A. I presume he would do.

[Court adjourned until two o'clock.]

Erasmus Morrison sworn.—Knew Theodore S. Allen by reputation, but not by sight. His reputation was bad. Would not believe him under oath. Have known Mr. Doolittle a number of years and never heard anything against him. If there was to be anybody hired to whip a schoolmaster, these Allen boys are the right men I should think to apply to for such business.

Thomas B. Hamilton called and sworn.—Allen's character and Doolittle's as above.

Q. (On cross-examination.) Did you ever hear a report that he went into a room at Elgin and whipped a man for a personal grudge? A. No, sir.

Mr. Stuart—Did you ever hear of such an occurrence at Elgin, Mr. Haven?

Mr. Haven—I meant Belvidere.

Q. Did you ever hear that Mr. Doolittle while at Belvidere went into a room and whipped a lawyer? A. No sir.

Mr. Stuart—Did you ever hear of it, Mr. Haven?

Mr. Haven—Put me on the stand and see. [Laughter.]

Carlos Haven, sworn—Examined by Mr. Stuart—Q. Are you acquainted with Mr. Doolittle? A. Yes sir.

Q. Are you acquainted with his reputation as a quiet and peaceable citizen? A. I am not acquainted in the neighborhood where he resides.

Q. Are you acquainted with his general reputation in the city as a quiet citizen? A. I have been acquainted with him perhaps eight or nine years. Before I went to California I knew him as a magistrate, and so far as my personal knowledge extends I know nothing of his character for being good and quiet at all. But I thought you were going to ask me about Elgin matter.

Q. But I have caught you (laughter) Did you ever hear of his living in Elgin. A. I don't know as I did; I meant Belvidere.

Q. Did you ever hear of his whipping a man in Elgin? A. No—not in Elgin.

Q. Are you acquainted with Theodore S Allen? A. I don't know that I ever saw the boy until he was put upon the stand yesterday.

Q. Are you acquainted with his general reputation? A. Well, sir I have heard something said about it to-day.

Q. Have you heard it before? A. Yes. sir, I have heard of him.

Q. From your knowledge of his general character for truth and veracity, would you believe him under oath? A. I don't know what his reputation for truth and veracity is outside of what I have heard to-day.

Q. Would you believe him under oath? A. That is a pretty hard question to ask. I would have to give my opinion in connection with other facts. I don't know that it is proper to answer that question.

Q. Come now give us an answer. Would you believe him under oath? A. Well, I would answer it in this way.

Q. Answer it categorically. Would you believe him under oath? A. I will answer the question according to my own judgment and understanding.

Q. Answer it generally. Would you believe him under oath? A. Well, if he stood alone—personally alone in a case—from what I know about him I don't think I would attach any great credit to his testimony. You were to interrogate me about Belvidere matters.

Court—You may state what you know on that subject.

Mr Stuart—Shall he state all he has heard of that kind? Is that a fair test of a man's character? I whipped a man once and I am a very peaceable man. I even once heard of your Honor whipping a man. (laughter) peacable as you are—

Court—I guess not.

Mr Stuart—Well, it was trying to whip a man at least. (laughter) I don't think that injures your character as a peaceable citizen.

R. J. Hamilton, sworn—Have known Doolittle 10 or 12 years and so far as I know any thing of his character, he has been a peaceable and quiet citizen.

James H. Rees, sworn—Have known Doolittle about 20 years. His character as a peaceable and quiet citizen has been very good so far as I know. Never heard of his being in any broils.

Philip Dean sworn—Have known Doolittle almost a quarter of a century. Know nothing against him. In fact, I would not consider it a disparagement to any of our citizens to class him one of our best citizens.

George Anderson sworn—Have known Doolittle fifteen or sixteen years and never heard anything against his character as a peaceable and quiet citizen.

Charles Wooley sworn—Known D. for eleven years; character as a peaceable and quiet citizen good.

Jacob Saulter sworn—Am turnkey of the prison—Drummond came to see Allen with Allen's father.

Q. Did he tell you that he had employed Drummond as counsel for the boy? A. I don't know; I am not clear on that. He wanted to come in with him, and I told him we could not admit the attorney and him together.

Henry Fuller, sworn—Have known Doolittle 16 or 17 years; his character as a quiet and peacable citizen is good so far as I ever heard.

Henry M. Keith, re-called—Allen tore this lid from the desk; am quite positive; think I didn't testify before the Grand Jury that a little girl told me that I tore it off to protect myself: there were two covers found to be broken off in the melee.

Defence rested.

Mr. Haven then called A. Palmer, who was one of those who ran in upon hearing the noise of the affray; A. P. Haywood, who accounted for Richardson's absence from the trial, and Edward Brewster, a member of the Board of Education, who testified that Mr. Doolittle came to visit him to get Mr. Keith removed, and manifested a great anxiety to effect this object.

Mr. Haven then argued the case before the Jury; Mr. Stuart replied, and Mr. Haven closed.

After receiving the instructions of the Court, the jury retired, and after a delay of some time returned with their verdict, finding both the defendants guilty.

The penalty of the law for the misdemeanor charged, is six months imprisonment in the Bridewell, or a fine of one thousand dollars, or both.

SCENE IN THE RECORDER'S COURT.—INJUSTICE TO A GRAND JUROR.—We regret that the scene between Recorder Wilson, and Mr. James Winship, one of the present Grand Jury, should have taken place in the Recorder's Court, yesterday. It was a descent from what should be the dignity and high-mindedness of the bench, to a course of proceedure we think even Justice O'Malley would fain recall, should he be led in a like hasty and unadvised manner to overstep the bounds of prudent and fair judicial dealing. The facts of the case are briefly these:

It had reached the ears of the Court that one of the Grand Jury had been improperly addressed, or according to the phrase used had been "tampered with" by some person outside the Grand Jury room. This, if it was in the judgment of the Court a well founded rumor, deserved investigation. The Grand Jurors were called into Court and James Winship, a highly respectable citizen, found to be the man referred to in the rumor, which he explained, as arising simply from his having said to some one, that a friend had remarked to him "I guess you havn't found a bill in a certain case, the Judge looks so cross." This indeed proved to be all that had reached the knowledge of the Court concerning the matter, and Recorder Wilson would have done better to have dropped the whole affair. In place of so doing, Mr. Winship was struck from the list of the Grand Jury for his refusal to reveal the name of his friend. The matter did not end here. Mr. W. took the best legal advice and was informed that the grounds were grossly insufficient to warrant the course of the Recorder, and when the Grand Jury reassembled, he met with them. That body, uncertain how to act, returned into Court and reported his presence, when the Recorder ordered Sheriff Wilson to remove Mr. Widship from the Grand Jury room and prevent his return thither.

The affair, which if given in detail, would be even less creditable to the Court, as still more plainly exhibiting the spirit in which the measure was carried out, caused much sensation and an almost universal censure of the course taken by the Recorder in the whole affair. It is the general opinion that the grounds were grossly insufficient for thus setting aside from his duties a worthy man guilty only of bearing a jocular remark, in itself, entirely an innocent one.

A PLEASANT OCCASION.—The little folks of the Taylor Street Mission Sabbath School, in the South Division, with their teachers, and under the charge of S. D. Ward, Esq., their Superintendent, enjoyed a delightful excursion and basket picnic yesterday, at Tracy Station, about six miles this side of Joliet, on the Chicago and Rock Island Railroad, for a free ride to and from which point the Company generously furnished an excursion train.

The party, in all about two hundred and fifty in number, left the Van Buren street station at 9 A.M., and made a pleasant run to the grounds, where the day was passed delightfully in a manner that readily suggests itself to city little folks, whether from the alleys or the avenues, when turned out like young colts amid fresh growing wild flowers, green grass and pleasant groves.

Addresses were made by Rev. E. F. Dickinson, City Missionary, and Rev. S. S. Smith, of Warren, Mass. The kind care and liberal devisings of the teachers and friends of the school, had secured an abundance of good things, and there was enough and to spare. The party returned to the city at 6 P. M. We should add that the excursionists did not forget to pass a vote of thanks to the Superintendent of the C. & R. I. R. R., for his noble generosity on the occasion in the free excursion train.

AN ACQUISITION.—We chronicle with pleasure a valuable accession to our business community, in the late removal to this city of B. W. Phillips, Esq., late of Mendota, formerly connected with the management of, and still retaining his proprietary interest in the Mendota Bank in that place. Mr. P. has opened a banking office in the basement of the Marine Bank on Lasalle street, near the corner of Lake. He is a tried and experienced banker, and has won a high and secure business reputation, having been for twelve years previous to his removal to our State, in the Hamilton Branch of the State Bank of Ohio, and for seven years its cashier. Every such accession is of value in a city with daily widening commercial interests like our own, and few have brought hither more auspicious, or better founded promise, in forming new associations among our business men than has Mr. Phillips, whom we commend cordially and fully.

SEC. 5. Said companies may establish, maintain and use at any place or places between Lake and Van Buren streets, all such depots, freight houses and station buildings as the business of said companies, or of any or all companies, that may use said tracks may require, and in case the depot shall be of such length and so located as to extend over and require the use of grounds upon two adjoining lots or blocks, said companies may use the street between said lots or blocks for that purpose, provided such street is not used as a public thoroughfare for crossing the river.

SEC. 6. Said companies may use and operate such tracks within the district aforesaid, with and by such power as they shall deem for the best interest of the companies, but in case the same shall be operated with locomotive power, said companies shall use coke or coal for fuel for the locomotives. The rate of speed shall not exceed five miles per hour, and the same shall be subject to such general ordinance as may be passed by the regulation of railroads within the city.

Laid over and ordered published.

LAW INTELLIGENCE.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT.—In the United States District Court on Wednesday, Alva R. St. John was tried upon an indictment for resisting the U. S. Marshal while in the discharge of his duty, and convicted. The facts of the case were these. The Marshal went to Oneida, Knox County, and seized a stock of goods upon an execution for debt against one Paine. The goods were locked up in the storehouse by the Marshal, who thus left them. In his absence, St. John, who was the assignee of Paine, broke open the storehouse and carried the goods away, claiming that he had a right so to do by virtue of his authority as assignee.

Jeremiah W. Bigg, of Earlville, in this State, was tried upon an indictment for using government postage stamps a second time. He was fined in the sum of $50.

Yesterday the motion for a new trial in the case of John McAdam, convicted of passing counterfeit half dollars, was argued, and refused by the court. He was brought up and sentenced to one years confinement in the penitentiary and one dollar fine.

Samuel Wilson was tried and found guilty of the same offence and received the same sentence.

POLICE MATTERS.

The following were the main cases at Armory Hall yesterday, Justice Stickney presiding: Louisa Hart $5. Elizabeth Rodenbeiser, a street walker, and Joseph Weis, disorderly conduct; the former $30 and the latter $15. J. McCarthy, drunk and asleep in a stairway, $3. M. C. Colby, a tender at Clark street bridge, and J. A. Philips, a sailor, employed F. Rounds, a hackman, to take them to Holstein, to a dance, and on their return refused to pay him. A quarrel ensued, and both were arrested. They were fined $5 each.

VAGRANCY.—Richard Buckley, from Belleville, found asleep in an omnibus at the Southern Depot, $15. Lewis Masterson, of Boston, and Thomas Sullivan, of Jackson, Mich., $10 each.

PASSING COUNTERFEIT MONEY.—Henry Hale, a carpenter, from Elwood, Ill., was held to bail in the sum of $500 for passing a $5 counterfeit bill on the American Bank, Dover Hill, at a saloon.

BASTARDY.—Robert Farrar, a carpenter, formerly in the employ of Cleveland, Russell & Co. was arrested Wednesday night, by officer B. F. Sitts. About six months ago he seduced a girl, named Charlotte Andrews, living on Fulton street, in the West Division, under promise of marriage. The girl became enciente, and Farrar ran away, to St. Josephs, Mo. He returned to this city on Wednesday, on his way to Ogdensburg, and was arrested. Yesterday morning the case was settled by the defendant's giving the girl $100 in cash and furnishing the required bond for the support of the child.

SMALL FIGHTS.—There was a terrible battle fought between residents on "the Patch," as it is called, a strip of land owned by the railroad companies north of Kinzie street near the west bank of the river, pretty thickly squatted on by Celts. The difficulty was one of long standing feud between neighbors. The war commenced yesterday by Mistress Neville's throwing a pail of dirty water upon Mikey Hickey. The latter not seeing the joke, by way of axing his assailant to depart from such courses, seized an axe and knocked the bottom out of her tub. Dame Neville; believing him from his conduct to be a Great Bear, very naturally thought of "The Dipper," with which household utensil she laid open his cheek, inflicting an ugly gash. Owen Tooney came in at this juncture, and got mixed in the fight. The parties were all brought before Justice Stickney at Armory Hall, the Neville still boiling with rage, and supported by Mr. Neville and seven small Nevilles. Owen was in liquor, ditto Mikey, ditto several of the witnesses. Owen insisted upon being sworn, but as his Honor did not think it necessary, observed, "No, be jabers, that it isn't, yer Honor, for be the Howly Moses, as the King of France sed to a pay-thriot, yer word is better nor your oath any time"—which quotation threw the Court into a deep brown study. The case, after an hour's hearing, resulted in a fine of $1 to the woman Neville and $5 to Mikey.

—Fight No. 2 was of the same general stamp, and was an action of trespass, trover and unlawful conversion on the part of Widow McDonald, who, in a bit of a melee with her neighbor O'Hara, trespassed on her rights and the forms of washing day, controverted her position, retroverted her tub of family linen, and converted that part of Kilgubbin into a howling wilderness. She was fined $3.

—Fight No. 3 was between a better class of citizens, but, like the preceding, went far to establish the fact that two cats in a bag, fire and gunpowder, acids and alkalis, and in fact the most irreconcilable of natural and chemical bodies and forces will better agree in conjunction than two families in one house. Justice Stickney occupied nearly an hour in the investigation of whether Mr. Breen did or did not strike the small boy of a family under his roof. He denied it, but plead a set-off. The neighbors were sworn pro and con, with no other result than the new proof of a general principle above detailed.

DISORDERLY NUISANCES.—The circumstance that many of our foreign born citizens are wont to indulge in a practice borrowed from the old country, of combining lyrics and lager, music and malt, in saloons where not unfrequently an hundred or more gather to imbibe with ears and mouths the flowing products of the keg and the concert, has introduced a nuisance of no small magnitude in our city from the attempts of low fellows to imitate these music-beer-halls, without the disposition or possibly the desire to keep them within the bounds seldom transgressed by their originals. As a consequence we have several of these dens where nightly a disorderly crew of both sexes congregate, and low songs, lewd dances, garnished with an abundance of all varieties of noises, disturb the neighborhood. The residents on Randolph street, between Dearborn and State street, have recently complained of the "Hiawatha" and "Young America" saloons as being of this class, and yesterday one Robert Bridle was fined $30 as proprietor of the latter. The complaint against these places is less that they are disturbances during ordinary concert hours, than that they carry their orgies far down into the night.

DANGEROUS ASSAULT.—A man named Baker was arrested yesterday, charged with an assault of a dangerous nature upon one Patrick Sheridan.

HORSE STEALING.—Officer Douglas, arrested, yesterday morning, a father and son named Olsted, charged with horse stealing. They were examined yesterday before Justice Milliken, and held to bail in $500 each, and committed in default.

ATTEMPTED BURGLARY.—On Monday morning an attempt was made by burglars to enter the Union Railroad House on South Canal street, but were prevented by a faithful dog upon the premises. Six weeks ago this same house was entered through a window, and some articles were stolen.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

THE GREAT WORK OF THE AGE COMPLETED.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH LAID!

DISPATCH FROM CYRUS W. FIELD

LETTER OF MR. FIELD TO THE PRESIDENT.

Queen Victoria to Send the First Message.

TRINITY BAY, N. F., July 5.

To the Associated Press:

The Atlantic Telegraph Fleet sailed from Queenstown on Saturday, July 17th. Arrived at mid-ocean on Wednesday, the 28th; made the splice at 1 P. M. on Thursday, the 29th, then separated, the Agamemnon and Valorous bound to Valentia, Ireland, and the Niagara and Georgian for this place, where they arrived yesterday, and this morning the end of the cable will be landed.

It is 1,698 nautical or 1,950 statue miles from the telegraph house, at the head of Valentia Harbor, to the telegraph house at Bay of Bulls, Trinity Bay, and for more than two-thirds of this distance the water is over two miles in depth.

The cable has been paid out from the Agamemnon at about the same speed as from the Niagara. The electrical signals sent and received through the whole cable are perfect. The machinery for paying out the cable worked in the most satisfactory manner, and was not stopped a single moment from the time the splice was made until we arrived.

Captain Hudson, Messrs. Everett and Woodhouse, the Engineers, the Electricians, and officers of the ships, and in fact every man on board the Telegraph Fleet, have exerted themselves to the utmost to make the expedition successful, and by the blessing of Divine Providence it has succeeded. After the end of the cable is landed and connected with the land line of telegraph, and the Niagara has discharged some cargo belonging to the Telegraph Company, she will go to St. Johns for coal, and then proceed at once to New York.

CYRUS W. FIELD.

Letter from Mr. Field to the President.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 5.—The President who is at Bedford, received the first intimation of the successful laying of the Atlantic Cable through the Associated Press. The following is a copy of Mr. Field's message to the President of the United States, at Washington:

DEAR SIR: The Atlantic Telegraph cable on board the U. S. steam frigate Niagara and her British Majesty's Agamemnon was joined in mid-ocean, July 29th, and has been successfully laid; and as soon as the two ends are connected with the land lines, Queen Victoria will send a message to you, and the cable will be kept free until your reply has been transmitted. With great respect,

I remain Your obd't serv't,

CYRUS W. FIELD.

Public Rejoicings at the Success of the Atlantic Telegraph.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—The news of the success of the Atlantic Telegraph Cable created an unexampled sensation in this city and elsewhere.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—The public mind was greatly excited to-day by the news of the arrival of the Telegraph enterprise. The general impression at first was, that the news was too good to believe, but the confirmation of the news has caused a feeling of delight, amounting almost to transport.

ALBANY, Aug. 5.—The intelligence of the arrival of the Telegraphic Cable, created an immense sensation here. The news reached here about 12:30 P. M., and instantly spread over the city, causing much excitement. Crowds of persons flocked to each newspaper office, and the telegraph office for confirmation of the news, which was at first doubted; but when the conviction of the truth of the report forced itself upon the public mind, the scene in the streets was as though each person had received some intelligence of personal interest. No commercial created more excitement. The news was conveyed to the Board of Trade, to the court and the meeting of the Central Railroad, and for a while entirely interrupted the proceedings of those bodies.

UTICA, August 5.—The news of the telegraph success here was at first doubted, then accepted, and finally believed with rejoicing. The effect upon the public mind was exciting and gratifying in the extreme. Suitable demonstrations will be made to morrow.

BUFFALO, August 5.—The news of the successful laying of the telegraph cable was received here at 1 o'clock, with immense gratification. The telegraph and Robinson's banking office are brilliantly illuminated this evening in honor of the event.

NEW HAVEN, August 5.—The news of the success of the Atlantic Telegraph Expedition, published in this city this P. M., created the utmost enthusiasm. A National salute was fired upon the public Green, and the congratulations were unbounded.

CINCINNATI, August 5.—Great excitement on 'Change upon receipt of the Atlantic telegraph news. Business for a time suspended.

QUEBEC, August 5.—Intense excitement created here by the announcement of the success of the great event of the age. It has since been the almost exclusive topic of conversation, and a general feeling of gratification is apparent.

DONCASTER, Mass., July 5.—News of the success of the Atlantic cable was received here this P. M. The reading of the dispatch of Mr. Field was greeted with three tremendous cheers. A large crowd assembled at the American Telegraph office. The greatest enthusiasm exists throughout the city. To-morrow, at noon, a hundred guns will be fired in honor of the great event.

LOUISVILLE, August 5.—The publication of dispatches from Trinity Bay, that an electric current had been established across the Atlantic, struck our people like a clap of thunder out of a clear sky. In view of the previous experiment they had consigned the Atlantic cable to the category of impossibilities. They were at first astounded and incredulous, but recovering from their surprise admitted the fact and enthusiastically speculated on the benefical consequences of the enterprise, not a few supposing that Buck and Victoria hindered the reception of European intelligence by want of promptness in exchanging telegraphic salutations, voted them old fogies, too slow for this fast age, and are now in a fever of excitement for a few words from the other side of the ocean. They have now (9 P. M.) concluded to wait till to-morrow morning, but not a moment longer. The telegraph officers and operators partake of the general excitement.

MONTREAL, Aug. 5.—The news of the arrival of the Niagara at Trinity Bay was had here shortly after noon to-day, and caused a profound sensation. The union of the Provinces to the mother country by the electric bond was hailed with intense gratification.

ST. JOHNS, N. B., Aug. 5.—Bravo, Atlantic cable. Great rejoicing for its success. It is felt that it must give an impulse to business, besides being a bond of union between the mother country, her provinces and the United States.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., Aug. 5.—The news of the triumph of the ocean telegraph was had here this P. M., and immediately communicated to the government. It is hoped that the next step will be a second cable connecting with the American lines across the island.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—The number of bids for the ten million loan, which will be decided on Monday next, is expected to realize a large amount at a favorable premium to the Government. Information has been received that it will also be bid for by foreign capitalists.

The receipts into the Treasury from customs are regarded as indicative of a general revival of business, and will more than realize the expectation of the Government, as communicated to Congress toward the close of the late session, should the improvement continue at the same ratio.

The remaining ten or twenty million loan will not be called for during the first two quarters of the present fiscal year.

Although New Granada has objections to the U. S. troops' passage over the Isthmus, our Government asserts its right, and will exercise it on the basis of treaty stipulations, thus to transport them to and from the Pacific. Neither the Navy or the Post Office Departments have yet received any answer from Mr. Collins, concerning a resumption of the ocean mail service.

By the arrival of the southern mail we learn that the British bark Penelope, from Mantanzas, is bound to Quarantine, below Charleston, with fever on board. The captain, mate and several men had died, and the present commander was procured from a ship at sea.

Missouri Election.

The Bogus "Count" in Jail.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Aug. 4.—De Riviere has been arrested at the instance of Col. Blount and lodged in jail, in default of bail. Mrs. and Miss Blount, it is rumored, sustain De Riviere.

Later from Mexico.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Tampico news of the 19th July has been received at New Orleans.

Government troops under Miriamon had triumphed over the insurrectionary troops at Guerataro but were subsequently defeated.

Pueblical, constitutionalist, while retreating from Ganauxato was attacked by Cacas, a Zulaagaist, from Celaha. His forces were defeated and himself and many of them taken prisoners and afterwards summarily executed.

There had been an outbreak in the districts of Zirixa and Husteca in favor of the Constitutionalists, and Gen Moreno, of Campico, has left that city with 600 men to endeavor to suppress it. Previous to starting he issued a proclamation to the promedes offering them an amnesty on condition of surrendering their arms.

The war steamer Gurrero was at Tampico as a harbor defence.

Gen. Vidaurri intended to send from San Luis Potosi 2,000 men against Guanaxto, and 4,000 more were to leave San Luis on the 12th for the capital.

Gen. Caravaigaral was on the road between Tampico and Toncassicque and Victoria, cutting off communication with the interior.

The Ministerial Crisis in Canada.

TORONTO, Aug 5.—The Ministerial crisis still continues, and the excitement to-day has greatly increased. Mr. Galt, who was called in by the Governor General yesterday, has to-day declined to undertake the formation of a new Cabinet. It is reported that Mr. Cartier, who was a member of the McDonald Cabinet, is called in to form a Ministry.

Mr. Brown's organ, the Globe, attacks the Governor General for not dissolving Parliament. A lengthy correspondence, in writing, between Mr. Brown and the Governor General was produced in Parliament last night. Darcey McGee made a great speech condemning the Governor General and supporting Mr. Brown.

Later from Utah.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 5.—A dispatch from St. Joseph, 2d inst., says: Salt Lake mail arrived, but brings no news of importance. Order and quiet had been restored throughout Utah, and the Mormons had expressed themselves highly pleased with the Territorial officers. Upon Gen. Johnston's entrance into the city, the few remaining Mormons fled. Commissioners Powell and McCulloch having completed the duty assigned them, were passing at Fort Laramie en route for home.

Gen. Johnston has issued a proclamation prohibiting soldiers and citizens from disturbing Mormons or their cattle, nor were any troops allowed to enter the city under any pretext. The rivers on the route were all high. Indians quiet.

Kansas Election.

LEAVENWORTH, Aug. 2.—[By the U. S. Express to Boonville, Au.]—The whole vote in this city, on the proposition for the admission of Kansas as a State was 1,749, of which 139 were for proposition accepted, and 1,610 for proposition rejected. This is the largest vote ever polled in this city. The election, with the exception of a slight disturbance in the Second Ward, passed off with the utmost propriety, and without notable incident.

At Kickapoo Precinct, there were 90 votes cast for the proposition, and 53 against it.

Gen. Harney returned to the fort to-day. Harris' battery will reach the fort to-morrow.

HOUSEKEEPERS CANNOT DO WITHOUT THEM.—In weather like that of yesterday what can the careful housekeeper do without a Refrigerator that will be a preservatory of meats, fruit, &c.—in other words, without one of Schooley's Patent Refrigerators, manufactured by Babcock, Peck & Co., on Randolph street, near Metropolitan Hall?

☞ The Hope Fire Insurance Company of New York has a cash capital invested in first class mortgages, and a large and increasing surplus of assets, whilst its Directors are amongst the leading and wealthiest merchants of the city. Its officers and agents are experienced underwriters. This office offers through its agent in this city (Mr. T. G. HOP YEAST.

ATTENTION HOUSEKEEPERS, COOKS, Stewards of Vessels.—Knowing the difficulty of getting Good Yeast in this city and county, the undersigned has commenced the manufacture of Hop Yeast in Chicago. It is put up in the form of a dry cake and is known as the "New England Dry Hop Yeast Cake." They may be had of any respectable Grocer in this city, and towns in this and adjoining states; by using these cakes and keeping them on hand, any cook can in two minutes time have a cup of fresh yeast and at an expense of one penny.

Republican Nominations.

JAMES MILLER.
For Superintendent of Public Instruction,
NEWTON BATEMAN.

For Congress, 2d District,
JOHN F. FARNSWORTH.

Douglas a Party to the Lecompton Fraud.

There is abundant evidence to prove that Senator Douglas was himself a party to the original Lecompton fraud. He did not desire to have the people of Kansas vote upon this Constitution, and he was not only privy to the scheme by which they were to be kept from voting on it, but he was a party to it. This is the charge—now for the proof.

On the 25th of June, 1856, Mr. Toombs of Georgia, gave notice in the U. S. Senate of his intention to offer a bill as an amendment to the bill then pending to authorize the people of the Territory of Kansas to form a Constitution and State Government, preparatory to their admission into the Union. This bill was referred with other matters on the same subject to the Committee on Territories; and on the 30th day of June, five days afterwards, Mr. Douglas reported it back with some alterations and amendments, which bill (known as the Toombs bill,) passed the Senate but failed to pass the House. The bill as originally offered by Mr. Toombs, contained a provision for submitting the Constitution to be framed to an election of the people of Kansas for their approval or rejection. In the bill as reported back to the Senate by Mr. Douglas this provision was stricken out. That there may be no caviling upon this point, we copy the section as it stood in Toombs' bill, and as it read when reported by Mr. Douglas:

18TH SECTION TOOMB'S BILL.	19TH SECTION DOUGLAS' AMENDED BILL.
"That the following propositions be, and the same are hereby, offered to the said Convention of the people of Kansas, when formed, for their free acceptance or rejection, which if accepted by the Convention, and ratified by the people at the election for the adoption of the Constitution, shall be obligatory on the United States and upon the said State of Kansas," &c.	"That the following propositions be, and the same are hereby, offered to the said Convention of the people of Kansas, for their free acceptance or rejection, which if accepted by the Convention, shall be obligatory on the United States and upon the said State of Kansas," &c.

It will be seen by comparing the above sections that the words "and ratified by the "people at the election for the adoption of "the Constitution," which are contained in the original Toombs' bill, were stricken out while in the possession of Mr. Douglas, and the bill was reported back by him without that clause or any other clause of similar import.

The clause being stricken out the question arises why and by whom was it done? To the first branch of the query there can be but one answer—it was done for the purpose of preventing the people of Kansas from voting on their Constitution, and for no other purpose whatever. As to the question, "By whom was the clause stricken out?" it matters little, so far as Judge Douglas is concerned, inasmuch as he made himself responsible for the entire contents of the bill by reporting it to the Senate. But we have positive testimony—the testimony of Mr. Douglas himself—as to who erased the provision. In his speech in the Senate, Dec. 9th, 1857, Mr. Douglas says in speaking of this bill:

> "During the last Congress I reported a bill from the Committee on Territories to authorize the people of Kansas to assemble and form a constitution for themselves. Subsequently, the Senator from Georgia, (Mr. Toombs) brought forward a substitute for my bill, which, after having been modified by him and myself in consultation, was passed by the Senate."

This means that the erasure of the provision in question was made by Mr. Douglas himself, in consultation with Mr. Toombs, if language is susceptible of any meaning at all. Afterwards, when Bigler of Pennsylvania cited this bill to prove that Douglas was a party to the scheme to keep the people of Kansas from voting upon their constitution, the latter quibbled and pettifogged over it in the following manner:

> The Toombs bill being silent, I took it for granted, and I supposed every other man did, that it was to be submitted. * * * I will ask the Senator to show me an intimation from any one member of the Senate, in the whole debate on the Toombs bill, and in the Union from any quarter, that the Constitution was not to be submitted to the people. I will venture to say, that on all sides of the Chamber it was so understood at the time. If the opponents of the bill had understood that it was not, they would have made the point on it; and if they had made it, we should certainly have yielded to it, and put in the clause."

Now, in regard to the foregoing, we have three remarks to make. 1. It is strange that Mr. Douglas should have taken it for granted that the Constitution would be submitted notwithstanding the silence of the bill upon the subject, when his own hand had stricken from it the only clause which required such submission. If it was Mr. Douglas' desire that the people of Kansas should vote on their Constitution, why strike from the bill the provision authorizing them to vote, leaving the matter to the uncertain action of the Convention? 2. About the same time that Mr. Douglas struck out this provision from the Toombs bill, he incorporated a similar one in the Minnesota enabling act. If a general understanding that the Constitution was to be submitted to a vote of the people of Kansas warranted Mr. Douglas in striking from the enabling act a provision authorizing them to vote upon the Constitution, upon what grounds will he explain the incorporation of the same provision in the Minnesota bill—a Territory in which he knew there would be no opposition made to a vote of the people upon their Constitution? 3. Mr. Douglas gives utterance to two distinct untruths. First: he says the opponents of the bill did not make the point on it, (that the Constitution was not required to be submitted); and secondly that if they had, the clause (which he had stricken out) would have been inserted. The facts establish that the point was made, forcibly made and reiterated in Mr. Douglas' presence, and that he did not restore the clause which his own hand had stricken out. In the debate on the Toombs bill, on the night of its passage in the Senate, Mr. Trumbull made an able and conclusive speech in opposition to it. Among the objections which he urged against the bill was the very one which Mr. Douglas says was not made at all, either in the Senate or in any part of the Union. We quote the following from Mr. Trumbull's speech:

> "No provision is made in this bill for its (the Constitution) ratification. This is objectionable to my mind. I do not think the people should be bound by a Constitution without passing upon it directly themselves. * * * It looks to me too much like the exercise of arbitrary authority to vest in the hands of the fifty-two men who are authorized to be elected by this act, the power to fasten any sort of a Constitution upon the people of Kansas, without allowing them to pass directly upon it. It is quite enough for Congress to call a Convention, without being asked by the people of that Territory, or consulting them at all; but it is going a little too far to allow the Convention, when assembled, to fix a constitution irrevocably upon the people of the Territory. There is nothing said in this bill, so far as I have discovered, about submitting the constitution which is to be framed, to the people, for their sanction or rejection. Perhaps the Convention would have the right to submit it, if it should think proper, but it is certainly not compelled to do so according to the provisions of the bill."

Thus the records of Congress prove that the point was made in the Senate and that Mr. Douglas did not restore the clause which he had stricken out. Why he did not is unmistakable. He had become a party to the scheme to defraud the people of Kansas of their right to pass upon their own Constitution. There are corroborating circumstances which go to establish the same fact.

The Toomb's bill having been defeated in the House, the bogus Legislature of Kansas (by instruction doubtless from Washington) proceeded to call a Convention to frame a Constitution, and included in the act such provisions as gave only pro-slavery men the privilege of voting for delegates. That Mr. Douglas approved both of the convention thus called and the disfranchising of a large majority of the people of Kansas, we have his own declarations to prove. In his Springfield speech of June 12th, 1857, he says:

> "Kansas is about to speak for herself, through her delegates assembled in convention to form a Constitution, preparatory to her admission into the Union on an equal footing with the original States. Peace and prosperity now prevail throughout her borders. The law under which her delegates are about to be elected is believed to be just and fair in all its objects and provisions. There is every reason to hope and believe that the law will be fairly interpreted and impartially executed, so as to insure every bona fide inhabitant the free and quiet exercise of the elective franchise. If any portion of the inhabitants, acting under the advice of political leaders in distant States, shall choose to absent themselves from the polls, and withhold their votes, with the view of leaving the Free State Democrats in a minority, and thus securing a pro-slavery constitution in opposition to the will of the majority of the people living under it, let the responsibility rest on those who, for partisan purposes, will sacrifice the principles they profess to cherish and promote. Upon them and the party for whose benefit and under the direction of whose leaders they act, let the blame be visited of fastening upon the people a new State, institutions repugnant to their feelings, and in violation of their wishes."

Here no reference whatever is made to a submission of the Constitution to the people. On the contrary it is asserted that if a majority of pro-slavery delegates should be returned to the Convention, the result would be to fasten upon the people of Kansas institutions repugnant to their feelings and in violation of their wishes. Douglas said this, well knowing from the character of the law that the Free State men would not be permitted to take part in the election of delegates, and his language indicated in advance that he then intended to sanction the Lecompton Constitution, without submission to the people, and the ground on which he would defend his action. Shortly after the delivery of this speech, the Chicago Times, his especial mouthpiece, threw off all disguise upon the subject, and openly opposed the submission of the Constitution to the people. The following from that paper, probably from the pen of Judge Douglas himself, is an example of its daily utterances on the subject;

> "We think the Convention that will frame the new Constitution in Kansas will exhibit far more regard for public tranquility and public honesty, by conducting their proceedings without any reference to the Topeka adherents; and as they have declared it shall never go into operation in the State, we think there is about as much propriety in submitting it to their approval as there would be in submitting it to the approval of the inhabitants of the Fejee Islands." * * *
>
> "As the adherents of the Topeka Convention refused to participate in the election of delegates, and are sworn to resist the new State government when established, they have no right to be consulted in the formation of that State government."

Further proof is unnecessary. If the foregoing facts do not establish that Douglas was a party to the scheme to force a Pro-Slavery Constitution upon the people of Kansas in opposition to their known wishes, then no fact in the political history of the country is susceptible of being proved. But why did he flinch at last? The answer is plain. His term of office was about expiring; he was in Illinois when the Lecompton infamy was made public; he felt the ground swell of popular indignation, and his courage forsook him. But give him a new term of office. Reelect him to the U. S. Senate, and he will at once make ample atonement to the South by some even more flagrant betrayal of freedom than he has heretofore been guilty of.

The Lesson of the St. Louis Election.

The lesson of the election in St. Louis should not be thrown away on the voters of Illinois. Its plain teaching is that a division of the forces opposed to the Pro-Slavery party enables the latter to triumph as certainly and effectually as though it counted a majority of all the votes, instead of a meagre plurality over either one of its antagonists. In this contest BARRET (Pro-Slavery) received 6718 votes; BLAIR (Repub.) 6,142; BRECKINRIDGE (American) 5,289. By this showing the Pro-Slavery candidate has a plurality of 606 votes, but is in actual minority of 4,583. In other words, there are 4,583 more voters in St. Louis opposed to the Pro-Slavery candidate than there are in favor of him; yet he receives his certificate and represents the 1st Congressional District of Missouri for two years. We have no fault to find with the plurality rule, but we deeply deplore that a division of the elements favorable to "Free Democracy," as they call it there, (which may be translated Gradual Emancipation,) should have placed an Anti-Emancipation vote in Congress, and destroyed the prestige of two years of uninterrupted success. Since the election of Mr. How as Mayor in the Spring of 1856, the "Free Democracy" of St. Louis have been irresistible at every election except this. It may have been impossible to combine the forces in this campaign, which elected Mayor FILLEY last spring, gave ROLLINS his majority a year ago, and placed BLAIR in Congress the preceding year. At the election of 1856 the opposition to Mr. BLAIR was pretty much centered on Mr. KENNETT, the American candidate. The vote in that contest stood: BLAIR, 6,035; KENNETT, 5,519. Quite likely, with this showing, the Americans thought they could elect a man of their own choice, as between the Free Democracy and the Slave Democracy. It is very certain that they tried to do it, and that they drew enough votes away from Mr. BLAIR to insure the defeat of both him and themselves. We do not believe Mr. BRECKINRIDGE's supporters were all favorably inclined towards Mr. BLAIR as a second choice, but the repeated triumphs of the party which the latter represents, when there were only two parties in the field, compel us to believe a considerable majority of them were.

This is the old story of 1856, in which it is related that the State of Illinois cast her vote for JAMES BUCHANAN for President, though that candidate was in a minority of 28,283 votes. We do not assume that the 37,444 votes cast for FILLMORE would all have gone for FREMONT if the former had been out of the way. Yet the success of the Republican State ticket by majorities ranging from 5,000 to 20,000 shows conclusively that the Pro-Slavery party embodied far less than half the voting population of the State. By misdirection the Free Soil majority of Illinois—the majority in favor of Free Territories, the majority who did care "whether Slavery were voted down or voted up"—spent their force beating the air, just as the friends of Emancipation in St. Louis have spent theirs in a collision with each other.

We are again entering on an important contest—one upon which the future policy of our Government very largely depends. All eyes are turned upon Illinois as upon the pivot of American politics. The Slavery crusade which called forth the indignation and energy of the people in 1856, has advanced from the specious entrenchment of Popular Sovereignty to the open field of the Dred Scott decision. The doctrine that Slavery may go into the Territories of the Union, has given place to the dictum that it is already gone into those Territories. The Pro-Slavery party of Illinois, severed in twain on a personal issue, is a unit on all matters involving the privilege of the "peculiar institution" to overrun the whole country west of the Missouri River. Is not the issue thus presented, great enough to unite all who believe that the Territories are, in their normal condition, Free Territories—all who believe the Dred Scott decision a base prostitution of the American bench? Ought not the peril which Calhounism and Douglasism have brought upon the Free States as well as the Free Territories, to grapple together all hearts which beat with the patriot blood of the Revolution? We have every confidence that the division which defeated us in 1856, will not be known in 1858, and that all who deem freedom better than slavery for the millions to come after us, will so vote in the coming election.

Steam on the New York Canals.

Mr. Ruggles, the newly appointed Canal Commissioner in New York, made a speech at Buffalo on the 29th ult., in which he made reference to the experimental trip of the steam canal-boat Charles Marsh, and said he should hail the return of that steamer with an interest no less intense than that felt by himself and others who witnessed the success of Fulton's great experiment half a century ago. The N. Y. Tribune states that the Canal Commissioners, Auditor and Governor of the State will proceed to Rochester on Thursday or Friday of this week, to witness, on the sixty mile level west of that city, an experiment designed to test the practicability of steam navigation on the Erie Canal.

Railway Matters.

CLEVELAND & TOLEDO RAILROAD.—The Directors of the Cleveland and Toledo Railroad say that "the business of the Company does not justify the maintenance of two lines of road," and that consequently, "one of them must be abandoned." The question is which line should be abandoned—the one along the lake shore via Sandusky, or the southern line via Norwalk. The lake shore track seems to be the one the Company contemplate removing the iron from and discontinuing. Experience has proven that it is ruinous to run two lines of Railroad parallel and within short distances of each other, as in the case in question.

THE LA CROSSE INVESTIGATION REVIVED.—Mr. Byron Kilbourn has published a sixty page pamphlet reviewing the Report of the Investigating Committee. Mr. Kilbourn denounces the Committee bitterly and declares his conviction that here was nothing in the proceedings connected with the procurement of the Land Grant "repugnant to the strictest morality." The gentleman's ideas of morality are evidently of a very accommodating character.

MINNESOTA AND NORTHWESTERN R. R.—In the Minnesota State Legislature, now in session, a bill has been passed amending the charter of this Company. By this bill it is made imperative on the Company to complete the road from St. Paul to Superior, via. Columbus, in Anoka county, and Chengwatana, in Pine county, a branch to Taylor's Falls, Marine and Stillwater; also a branch to some point between St. Paul and Anoka by the 29th day of June, 1863. Also the northern terminus of the road must be at or near the Bay of Superior and within the limits of the State. The Company are also required to commence the grading of the main line within sixty days and have the entire length of fifty consective miles completed and in operation before the 17th day of February.

The Company are also required within one year to survey and locate, and within five years to construct, equip and put in operation, a branch in continuation of the road from Lake Superior to St. Paul, thence on the east side of the Mississippi River to the city of Hastings, in the county of Dacota, and from thence to Cannon Falls and Pine Island, in the county of Goodhue and Rochester in the county of Olmsted. "But the company are to be released from these requirements, if the same shall be faithfully and fully discharged by the Minnesota Air Line Railroad Company." In case the company fail to meet these requirements their charter is annulled and all grants of land, rights, privileges and immunities, revert to the State of Minnesota.

MILWAUKEE & MISSISSIPPI R. R.—This road being unable to pay the interest on its Farm mortgage and 7 per cent. convertible bonds, a circular has been issued to the holders proposing to pay the interest now due and that falling due in January and March next by 5 per cent. bonds secured by a mortgage subject however to previous mortgages on the whole road for $3,750,000.

DUBUQUE & PACIFIC R. R.—The Directors of the Dubuque and Pacific Railroad Company have issued a circular to the friends of that work, containing the details of a plan which they believe will enable them to complete their road to Cedar Falls. The Company are entitled when the first hundred miles of road are built, to 460,800 acres of land. It is proposed to have the lands examined and appraised at an average value of $8 per acre which with 3,021 town lots at $200 each will produce a value of $4,328,400. Issue land scrip for this amount in denominations of $5, $10, $100 and $500, receivable at the Land Department on presentation by bearer in payment for any lots or lands at the appraised value. Then retire the floating and bonded debt of the Company with full paid stock, to be exchanged dollar for dollar. Each share of the stock to carry one hundred dollars of land scrip as a bonus. The cost then of completing the road to Cedar Falls, equipment, engineering, contingencies, &c., is set down at $1,365,500. The amount required to retire the bonds and floating debt, interest, expense of appraisal of lands and bonus to full paid stock will be $2,739,200, making a total necessary to clear the Company of debt, and complete one hundred miles of road in good order, of $4,104,700. Deduct this from the land scrip as above and a surplus remains of $223,700.

ROCK ISLAND AND ALTON RAILROAD.—The Rock Island and Alton Railroad Company have recently availed themselves of an amendment to their charter, passed at the last session of the Legislature, to extend their road south from Whitehall, Green county, to Brighton, Macoupin county, intersecting at that point with the Chicago, Alton & St. Louis Railroad. This extension of the road has been surveyed, and a contract has been made with Messrs. Champlin, Smith and Howes, the capable and enterprising contractors on the northern and central sections to build and equip it at once. We are informed that a large number of hands will be put on the southern section without delay.—Beardstown Illinoisan.

To all Interested in the Deaf and Dumb.

ILLINOIS INSTITUTION FOR THE DEAF AND DUMB,
Jacksonville, August 2, 1858.

The ensuing session of this Institution will open on Wednesday, September 1st. The benefits of the Institution—tuition, board, lights, fuel, washing, instruction in handicraft, medical attendance, &c—are furnished gratuitously to pupils whose residence is in Illinois. Clothing and traveling expenses are to be furnished by the friends of the pupil, or in case of their inability to furnish them, by the county of which the pupil has been a resident.

The Legislature has cheerfully made noble provision for the mental and physical education of the deaf and dumb of our State, and the Trustees, in the same spirit, have rendered the Institution a comfortable and pleasant retreat for its pupils. It has connected with it an efficient corps of officers, is warmed with steam and lighted with gas. Its situation is on a picturesque and healthy eminence without the limits but in full view of the town of Jacksonville.

All deaf mutes over the age of ten years who have not already finished their education, should be at the Institution promptly on the first day of September. The classes will then be organized, and if pupils come late we consider ourselves under no obligations to receive them (except in cases of sickness) until the opening of another session.

Pupils of the Institution and persons intending to bring pupils will please "take due notice of the above, and govern themselves accordingly." This requirement to many may seem arbitrary, but the classification of the school and the successful instruction of the pupils render it necessary. Punctuality is one of the traits which we endeavor to inculcate on our pupils, and there is no way more fitting for them to receive their first lesson in it, than in a prompt arrival at school.

The mistaken affection of parents sometimes causes them to keep their children at home when they should be in school. Deaf mutes should by no means be kept from school after they are eleven years old. Nor should they be sent to school before they are ten years old.

Clergymen, physicians and all other kind-hearted persons would do well to call the attention of those who have deaf mute children or wards to this card.

Truly and respectfully,
PHILIP G. GILLET, Principal.

A Pigeon-shooting Tournament.

There is to be a pigeon shooting tournament at Lafayette, Indiana, on the 22d, 23d, 24th and 25th days of September. As it is anticipated that sportsmen and the crack shots of the United States and Canada will attend, several thousands of wild pigeons have been provided for the occasion. The Sporting Club of Lafayette have extended an invitation to their "brother sportsmen of the trigger" to come and enjoy their hospitalities.

Besides a match of $500 a side between Mr. W. King and a gentleman from St. Louis, the following are the various sweepstakes to be shot for on the occasion:

First grand sweepstake of $200 each—member to shoot at 20 double birds each, 18 yards line, 100 yards boundary.

Second grand sweepstake of $100 each, at single and double birds, 18 yards rise for double and 21 yards single—the winner of the first prize to be handicapped three yards (standing 21 yards and 24 do.)

Third sweepstakes of $50 each, to be shot at single birds, 21 yards rise, 100 fall. Winners of either first or second handicap three yards.

Fourth sweepstakes of $25 each, at double bird., 25 yards rise, 100 fall—the handicap for winner.

Other sweepstakes follow.

A Murderous Duel in Cuba.

The Havana correspondent of the N. Y. Herald writes:

A cowardly and brutal murder took place about the middle of last week at Regla. There has been several versions of the affair in circulation, all, however, agreeing in the main facts of the case, which, therefore, I shall only send you.

Two military officers (young men) had a quarrel at a gambling table. To avenge the wounded honor of one or the other a duel was resolved upon. Accompanied by seconds, they met according to appointment in an old quarry, at the end of the main street of Regla, on the road to Guanabacoa. The weapons were swords. One of the principals was cut down, and whilst he lay upon the ground his opponent's second, who, it appeared, had some private pique against him, drew a pistol from his pocket and shot the wounded man, from which wound he died. His second, drawing his sword, attacked the murderer; however, he and his principal made good their escape, and have not, I believe, as yet, been apprehended. The youth who was murdered, (he was only seventeen years of age, I hear,) was a nephew of General Lersundi, Captain General of Madrid, so that unless the guilty party has effected, or does effect his escape from the island, he will most likely receive that punishment which his cowardice merits.

Personal and Political.

Col. Forney celebrated the first Anniversary of his Press, which was started on the first Monday in August, 1857. He announces himself an Independent Democrat, and boasts that his success has been unexampled, the circulation of his paper at this time being over twenty thousand. The Colonel complacently contrasts the present position of Mr. Buchanan's Administration with the glowing picture he drew of it only a year ago.

—It is said that the Hon. Robert Dale Owen, of Indiana, late Minister resident at Naples, is about to write a book on Neapolitan affairs. He is a gentleman of fine literary attainments, and his book will no doubt prove a hit.

—The citizens of Craytonville, in Anderson District—the birth place of Hon. James L. Orr, Speaker of the House of Representatives—have tendered him a public dinner, which will take place on the 12th inst.

—It is stated that Senator Bright of Indiana, has become a member of the Roman Catholic Church. His brother Lucas is already of that persuasion. If he has become conscientious as well as pious, he will see the propriety of resigning the office of Senator, which he is holding by an illegal tenure.

—In the Eighth District of North Carolina, the Democrats have nominated W. W. Avery to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Clingman. The American candidate is E. B. Vance.

—Jeff Davis, in his recent speech at Portland, Me., spoke of the disunionists of the South as "trifling politicians." This gives serious offence to his fire eating associates at the South, and the Charleston Mercury asks indignantly what he means by it.

—Prof. Henry Fowler, of Rochester University recently, spoke of Henry Ward Beecher, in a publicly delivered poem, as a man who

> "Deals with the present state, quite mindless of the other, > Leaving fixt fate and pre-existence wholly to his brother."

—Truman Smith, of New-York, publishes a card, saying that when in Congress, he investigated, with a select committee, the question as to the discovery of anæsthesia, and he believes the credit should be awarded to the late Horace Wells, of Hartford, Ct. He adds: "If the humane or charitable desire to recognize this great boon to humanity, I would point to the widow and child of Dr. Wells, residing at Hartford, as the proper objects of their benefactions."

—George William Curtis' late address before the literary societies of Hamilton and Clinton, on the relations of Education to Democracy, is declared to have "exhibited a power of argument, a ripeness of scholarship, a finish of style, and a manly vigor of action, which greatly surprised and delighted those who had only known him as the biographer of Mrs. Potiphar."

—The Spanish Mission, says the Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune, has been offered to Senator Mallory, but he declined it.

—Madam Teresa Parodi, the eminent prima dona, has returned to New York in the steamer Empire City, from Havana. She has had a brilliant career in the West Indies.

—Here is the latest bulletin in regard to England's young hopeful:

The Prince of Wales has now fairly slipped from the royal apron strings. He gives dinner parties at his Lodge at Richmond, and goes to the opera on his own hook, making good Mr. Gibbs sit in the back ground, while he lounges in front with his friends and associates, criticising the singers and dancers with the air of a connoisseur. He has lately given dinners to the Count de Paris, the Count de Flanders, and two or three youthful members of the English aristocracy.

—Mrs. Loudon, the celebrated English writer on gardening, is dead.

Particulars of the Accident to Senator Chandler.

We regret to announce a serious accident occurring to Senator Chandler last evening at his new residence on Fort street. The family had very recently occupied the house, and considerable work in finishing was still going on, in the way of painting, furnishing, gas-fitting, &c.

Last evening, about 7 o'clock, attention was called to a strong smell of gas in the house, which was found to proceed from the store room, where a pipe to which extensions had not yet been affixed, had been carelessly left open by a workman. Of course when the gas was turned on to light the house in the evening, there was a free escape through this pipe. Mr. Chandler, taking a light, went to the room in company with his little daughter and a serving man. Placing a pair of steps under the pipe, he mounted them to plug up the pipe, at the same time that his assistant lifted the light above his head, which came in contact with the stream of gas, when an explosion instantaneously followed.

Mr. Chandler was knocked down and severely burned about the face, neck and hands. His little daughter fortunately had retreated to the door, and was only slightly burned. The man who was with him was also considerably burned, although not so seriously as Mr. Chandler.

Drs. Clark, Gunn and Davenport were speedily summoned, and did all that was possible to alleviate the sufferings of the Senator, and to remedy the injuries received. Mr. Chandler is comfortable this afternoon, but there is no doubt of his quite serious injury, and some fears are entertained that he may be permanently disfigured, although it is hoped that medical skill may succeed in removing the disagreeable memories of a painful accident.

Shortly after this accident, a gas fitter was severely burned in attempting to stop the pipe, having carelessly pulled out the plug, and put a light too near the stream.

The friends of Senator Chandler throughout the State and country will all regret to hear of this accident, and join with us in hopes for his speedy and permanent recovery. From the present appearances, unless something unforeseen and unexpected supervenes, we are led to hope and believe that nothing more serious than possible disfigurement will result from this deplorable accident.

The other persons injured, we are glad to say, although suffering much, are doing as well as could possibly be expected.—Detroit Tribune, 3d.

Frauds at the St. Louis Election.

[From the St. Louis Democrat.]

A very little cool reflection has induced an inquiry in our city that bids fair to call into very critical review the appliances used by the Nationals for enhancing so mysteriously their vote in St. Louis. Frauds of the most glaring kind, double and treble voting to a frightful extent, the use of dead men's papers, and inserted tickets, and barricaded polls, all show themselves from the background of the National Democratic triumph. Especially in the Seventh, Eighth, Ninth and Tenth wards are their appliances conspicuous in the palpably dishonest vote cast. In April those wards were canvassed with a zeal and industry, by ward officers, that brought out the fullest vote ever had there before. It was an exciting contest, and an unembarrassed suffrage. None were driven off—none prevented from voting—none hindered in their franchise. On Monday, however, every laxity was given to the influx of National votes, and every annoyance to the casting of opposition votes. A large number of the friends of Mr. Blair were excluded from the polls by a ring of Irish bullies, who made a circle there for that purpose. Now contrast the votes given in April and in August:

	April 1858.	August, 1858
Seventh	1250	1697
Eighth	1814	2426
Ninth	1275	1612
Tenth	1583	1986
Totals	5913	7721

Thus it is seen that in these four wards alone, where heretofore the nationals have had no strength, and where they now exhibit a large array of ballots—the vote has been forced up very nearly two thousand votes. Will any man who knows the political sentiment of those wards, and who knows also their population, reducing rather than increasing in the summer months, hesitate in the conviction that it is a gigantic fraud, and that Mr. Barret is indebted for his election (if elected) to atrocities upon the ballot box, that exceed those of the notorious Calhoun. It is proper too, that this matter should be closely looked into. Such evils, if suffered to grow, become in large cities the cause of frightful social convulsions. In California, the like processes have led to the reign of vigilance committees, and in New Orleans and elsewhere, to serious riots and bloodshed. Shall St. Louis take the first step in this direction, or quietly submit to see her suffrage violated with impunity and utter no protest—make no sign of opposition? Are we to have a Plaquemine set up in the Ninth ward? Are judges of election to be foisted upon the community by a corrupt court, affording no protection to the ballot-box, and is it to pass unreproved? We pause for an answer to these questions, and in the meanwhile call attention to the facts noticed above, as well as to the strange delays that still attend the return of the poll-books.

Terrible Storm in Highland, Ill.—A Man and Horse Killed, Two Houses Struck by Lightning, &c.

From letters to the Anzieger Des Westens, we learn that a most terrific storm visited the vicinity of Highland, Madison County, Illinois, on Monday afternoon last, between the hours of four and six o'clock. The display of thunder and lightning were awful, and in several cases fatal. A teamster named Blase Bellem was killed while sitting on his horse. The lightning struck him on the top of the head, pierced through the skull, tore off one of his ears and came out at his shoulder. Another stroke killed a valuable horse. Two dwelling houses suffered also the effects of thunder bolts. The rain fell in torrents, and Silver and Sugar Creeks raged so fearfully that all the bridges on the St. Louis road were swept away.

This undoubtedly was the same storm that passed so gently over this city about five o'clock of the same day.—St. Louis Democrat, 4th.

Almost an Accident at Niagara.

On Thursday last, as M. G. Palmer and C. K. Babb, of Portland, Me., were viewing the falls from a point half a mile below on the American side, a rifle ball whistled past about breast high, within two feet of them, over the very ground they had just left. They subsequently ascertained that some reckless chaps were amusing themselves at target shooting, and twenty-five or thirty shots had been made, but our travelers did not know that the "arrows of death were flying thick and fast" around them until a bullet whispered it in their ears and lodged in the river beyond. Had they been one pace slower in their walk we should in all probability have had another sad accident to record from the careless use of fire arms, which is too common and should be punished to the full extent of the law.

Douglas on the Bill of Rights.

[From the N. Y. Tribune.]

The doctrine maintained by Mr. Douglas in the electioneering speeches he is now delivering through Illinois goes the length of denying the very fundamental basis upon which the American Revolution was placed by the men who made it. The Declaration of Independence was emphatically grounded on the rights of man. In an address issued by the Continental Congress near the close of the war, and signed by Hamilton, Madison and Ellsworth, the people were called upon to remember "that it had ever been the pride and boast of America that the rights for which she contended were the rights of human nature." "By the blessing of the author of these rights on the means exerted for their defence," so this address proceeds, "they prevailed against all opposition, and now form the basis of thirteen independent States." This does not sound very much like the doctrine of Mr. Douglas, that our fathers, in framing their constitutions, had regard only to number one, and were utterly negligent of the rights of anybody else, nay, that they invested themselves with the power of reducing other people to slavery. The doctrines laid down by Mr. Douglas as the basis of his political system amount to neither more nor less than an unmitigated and unlimited despotism. There seems to be only one right that he recognizes, and that is the right of the powerful to trample the weak under foot. He carries into politics the famous doctrine that whatever is is right. Liberty with him does not rest upon any natural basis. It is entirely artificial, a creature of the law, and the people of Illinois at this moment have no other guaranty for their liberties of any greater strength or validity than a mere act of the Legislature. Suppose that Mr. Douglas is right in his assumption that our Government was made for white men, that will not help his case. He must either admit or deny the existence of those rights of man of which Jefferson speaks, and which the Congressional Committee quoted above put forth as the basis of our institutions. If he admits the existence of such rights, then by no possible argument can he justify the reducing to slavery of men of any race or any color. He will be obliged to admit that slavery is an injustice and a wrong which, wherever it exists, ought to be rectified, and that to undertake to establish it anew would be utterly without justification or excuse. On the other hand, if, for the sake of spreading a charitable cloak over the iniquity of slavery, he goes the length of pronouncing the rights of man to be a dream and a chimera, in doing that he strikes a deadly blow, not merely at the freedom of black men, but at the rights and liberties of white men. There is no part of our State constitutions to which a greater value and importance was affixed by our forefather than the bills of rights by which they are preceded. When the Federal Constitution was first offered to the people of the States for their approval and ratification, there was no ejection to it so generally urged, and none which made so deep an impression upon the public mind, as the fact that it did not embody any bill of rights; and it was with the view of satisfying the susceptibility of the public on this point that the First Congress busied itself with a selection from the numerous amendments proposed by the ratifying conventions—the amendments thus selected, and subsequently adopted, being intended to supply that deficiency. Now, the value of these bills of rights consists altogether in the restrictions which they put upon the legislative authority, and in the fact that they debar the Government from that power which Mr. Douglas claims for it of depriving individuals, or classes of individuals, of the natural right of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. The great peculiarity of our Governments consists in the limitations which they involve and imply. They all acknowledge a law higher not only than the enactments of any legislature, but higher than the provisions of any written constitution; and, whatever Mr. Douglas may say to the contrary, they no more admit the right to enslave than they do the right to rob and murder.

Isaac N. Arnold.

As a delegate to the Congressional Convention at Dixon, we cast our vote for John F. Farnsworth. We did so for three reasons—first, because we were instructed so to do; second, because not to have re-nominated him at this juncture would have been equivalent to a censure upon his course in Congress; and thirdly, because we know he enjoyed a wide-spread popularity among the masses—a popularity based upon solid merit, eminent ability and faithful services. And having stood by Mr. Farnsworth as firmly as any of his friends, it yet affords us unalloyed pleasure to be able to say that in so doing we meant to make no invidious distinction in favor of him as against his principal rival for the nomination, Hon. Isaac N. Arnold, of Chicago. And we believe that when we say this, we reflect the sentiment of every delegate who cast his vote for Mr. Farnsworth, not only in this county but in all the others.

Isaac N. Arnold is a name that has been long and prominently before the people of Illinois. It is a name that has been honored, and that will long continue to be honored with unmistakable expressions of popular favor. In the last Legislature Mr. Arnold was the leader of the Republican forces in the House, and in the memorable battles of that session bore himself firmly and gallantly. The debt of gratitude which the Republicans of the State owe him for his services there will be surely paid, and this payment was only delayed at our recent Congressional Convention because this District was not entitled to two Representatives in the national Halls.

Mr. Arnold stated at the Dixon Convention, in one of the ablest and best-timed speeches to which it has ever been our good fortune to listen, that though he had not been selected to carry the banner for this District, yet he was enlisted for the war, and should fight as earnestly for the success of the State and Congressional ticket as a private, as he could in any other position. He has promised to go among the people during the present canvass and talk for Farnsworth and Free Soil—for Lincoln and Liberty. He will come into DeKalb County, and will speak at Sycamore and other places. He will find here many friends, and none warmer than those who voted against him in the Convention.—Sycamore (DeKalb Co.) True Republican.

MYSTERIOUS AFFAIR IN NEW YORK.

A Man Writes his Obituary—Engages his Coffin, Arranges his Funeral, and then Dies.

[From the New York Courier of July 30.]

A report was current in the city on Thursday that Mr. John V. James had died very suddenly and mysteriously at his residence, No. 69 Amity street, and that his remains had been conveyed in a clandestine manner to Albany, the place of his nativity. What added still more to the mystery, was the fact that his death was announced in the Herald of Monday, as having taken place on Sunday evening, when in fact he was well at that time and continued so up to within a few hours of his decease, which took place on Tuesday evening. Mr. James had been addicted to excess in the use of ardent spirits, and was in the habit of partaking of powerful medicines. It is supposed that he intended committing suicide on Sunday night, and after having penned a notice of his death and sent it to the Herald office, his courage failed him, and he postponed the deed. The following is the notice referred to:

"DIED.—On Sunday evening, July 25th, Mr. John V. James, of Albany." "This sentence will occasion many a sad heart among those who knew him. He was one of the kindest and gentlest of human beings. For the last three years Mr. James has been connected with the press. The last lines he ever wrote were on the death of his friend, Lieutenant Gaston, who fell with Capt. Taylor, of whose death a feeling and eloquent paragraph was published in yesterday's Herald. Mr. James was only twenty years of age at the time of his death. Had he lived he would have made a name for himself among the writers of his country."

On the morning subsequent to his death, a wagon containing a coffin was driven up to No. 67 Amity street. The coffin was taken into the house, and in about fifteen minutes brought out, placed upon the wagon, and driven off. The act was noticed by persons residing in the neighborhood, and finally came to the knowledge of Inspector Dilks, 15th Police District, who endeavored to get information at the house where deceased had resided, but failed, and then applied to the physicians who had attended him. These gentlemen stated that they had made a post mortem examination on the body, and ascertained that death was caused by delirium tremens, accelerated by the strong medicines he had been in the habit of using. On the certificate given by one of these gentlemen, the body was taken for interment to Albany, where most of the relatives of deceased reside. There is but little doubt that the deceased committed suicide. For a man of his years, Mr. James was a writer of considerable ability, and possessed decided talent as a poet. It is stated that he was a relation of Mr. G. P. R. James, the English novelist.

The Iowa Banking Laws.

PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR.

[From the Iowa Citizen, July 29.]

Whereas, two of the acts of the late General Assembly—one entitled "An Act to incorporate the State Bank of Iowa," approved March 20th, 1858, the other "An Act authorizing General Banking in the State of Iowa," approved March 22d, 1858, were submitted to a vote of the people of this State for their approval or rejection, on the 28th day of June of the present year, according to the provisions of the act of submission ordering a special election for that purpose, approved March 22d, 1858; and, whereas an official canvassing of the votes of the State, at the time and place aforesaid, and in manner prescribed by law, it was found that the votes upon the State Bank of Iowa were 41,588 for and 3,697 against the same, and that the votes upon the General Banking Law were 30,419 for and 10,447 against the same—a certificate of which facts stating the number of votes given for and against each of said laws, was duly filed in the office of Secretary of State as required by law: Now, therefore, I, Ralph P. Lowe, Governor of the State of Iowa, by the authority given me in law, do hereby make known and declare that both said acts have been approved by a majority of all the electors of this State voting for or against the same, and as such have taken effect and are now in force as laws of this State.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the Great Seal of the State of Iowa. Done at Desmoines, this 29th day of July, A. D. 1858, of the Independence of the United States the 83d, and of this State the 12th.

By the Governor, RALPH P. LOWE.

SINGULAR DEATH OF A CHILD—"THE MISTLETOE BOUGH."—About 9 1-2 o'clock yesterday morning a child ten years of age named George Printer, residing with his parents at the corner of Division avenue and Myrtle avenue plank road was found dead in a chest or trunk in his father's house. He has been missing since last Friday, and search was diligently made for him, but without success. Yesterday morning, perceiving an unpleasant smell in the room, search was made, and on the trunk being opened the dead body of the boy was found therein. It is supposed that he hid himself away in the trunk the lock being a spring lock, he was fastened in died from suffocation. Coroner Reeding held an inquest, when a verdict of death from suffocation was rendered.—N. Y. Tribune, July 27.

ANOTHER FREE-LOVE MANIFESTO.

Declaration of Indapendence at Berlin Heights.

Threats having been recently made by the quiet dwellers around Berlin Heights, Ohio, to drive out the Free-Love community in that place, Mrs. Cora Barry, editor of that blasphemous sheet, the Age of Freedom, gives vent to the feelings of the Free-Lovers in the following independent style:

"Born in Berlin, I consider myself 'naturalized;' feel I have the privileges of a 'Native American,' and I expect to remain here. Thinking as I must on all subjects; acting as my highest convictions impel me on all occasions; advocating such faith and such life as is good to me always, I expect still to remain. Rejecting all religious dogmas; repudiating all marriage bonds; believing in no government save the ever-acting laws of all being, I shall utter my thought as I am moved, and shall utter it here. Scorning that purity manufactured by legal force; despising that virtue based only on the opinion of the world; the truth I feel shall not be stifled in my soul, anywhere on God's earth. Advocating the sublimest trueness to the Christ within, my life shall alone answer to the divine mandates of my own being; and whatever place another may apportion me, it must pass unheeded, while my soul alone listens to the deep voices of the Infinite coming to me from the bleeding heart of Humanity—the aching pulses of my myriad sisters whose anguished prayer, as of old, is, 'What shall we do to be saved?' and oh! from the million innocent and unasked child-souls who are early born to a heritage of sin; all bidding me 'cry aloud and spare not' the deep truths so clearly shown me.

"Holding all days alike holy, I would do only good and beautiful deeds at any time, and the Bible Sabbath or Christian Sunday, like every day of my life, shall be devoted to whatever of work, or study, or music, or preaching, or dancing, my own judgment says will be most productive of health to my body and soul; and this I shall do, as I always have done, in Berlin. 'David danced before the Lord'—I believe it quite as innocent as any act of his life; and dancing, between the hours of intellectual and religious exercises, on Sunday or any other day, will be part of all wholesome and consistent worship. Seeing clearly that woman, as well as man, has the natural right to the fullest action of all faculties and passions of the soul; that she must be self-owned and self-whole that her womanhood and her maternal relations should be sacredly held in her own hands, I will keep herself—never become a slave—never yield to the mercenary obligation of the marriage bond; but accept alone the truest life up-welling in her own soul; letting a wise lovingness be ever the only parent power that shall give her a child; and despite threats, despite churches and priesthood, despite the howling of the rabble and the unlawful persecutions of legalized power, despite misrepresentations, and calumny, and abuse, and vilification, this truth will I proclaim from my native hill tops, and send it reverberating through the valleys where my childhood wandered. I shall still sit among the orchard blooms that draped my cradle; they shall give their fragrance to my life, and shroud my grave with the rose-hued mantle; and yet that life shall be lived unfettered, that grave shall be no coward's tomb. The scented slopes, where my childhood's winged hours went by, are still to give their sweetness and their sunshine to my riper years; and the mother's love and the father's smile are still to be mine for the faith that they have in their child; and yet more for the supremer faith in Truth; and ever shall my pen go on in its work, ever shall I utter this thought of freedom, ever shall I live the life that I feel most true, and ever must it be where my own soul chooseth its resting spot and its home!"

BUSINESS MEN OF CHICAGO!—YOUR special attention is requested to the valuable Book just ready:
CYCLOPEDIA OF COMMERCE AND COMMERCIAL NAVIGATION; edited by J. Smith Homans, Corresponding Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of the city of New York, and editor of "The Banker's Magazine," and by J. Smith Homans, Jr. Royal Octavo, 2,000 pages, double columns, in strong sheep binding, $6.75; in half calf, $8.; in half morocco, $8.
This work is a compendium of commercial knowledge, including articles upon the trade of every important maritime country and city in the world; copious and reliable statistics upon the staple productions of every climate; essays upon commercial subjects; synopsis of the laws regulating commerce, and general information and statistics upon every important commercial subject.
The want of a comprehensive commercial work of this kind has long been felt in the United States: a work exhibiting the condition and resources of the United States and the separate States, as well as of foreign nations. The only attempt hitherto made in this country to supply the want of such a work was the re-print, twenty-five years ago, of "McCulloch's Dictionary of Commerce and Commercial Navigation." This work, probably as complete as could be made at the time of its compilation, is very deficient in statistics relating to this continent—particularly the United States.
The extensive and important changes that have taken place within the past ten years in commercial affairs; the establishment of new states, new territories, new commercial places; the unexampled increase of the commerce of the United States, of the developement and the progress of the great industrial resources of the United States, all seem to require a new and distinct work with a view to place before commercial readers a more ample account of the progress of commerce throughout the world. We have endeavored to present, in a condensed manner, and from reliable sources, historical and statistical details in reference to the great staples of the Union; of those important products whose export to foreign countries has contributed largely to the prosperity of the States and the separate States; and it is thus calculated to give us a control of the vast markets of the world, and thus add greatly to the material wealth of the Union. Give the work a careful examination. It is worthy a place in the library of every business man.

DR. MANN'S
AGUE BALSAM,
UNRIVALLED IN THE HISTORY OF MEDICINE.
WHY? BECAUSE SINCE THE FIRST settlements of the rich prairies and fertile valleys of the West, it has been the great study of all physicians to produce a perfect cure for ague, fever, and all bilious diseases, so thoroughly prevalent and so frequently fatal in their results. The mineral and vegetable kingdoms have heretofore been ransacked in vain except in remedies only partially successful, but this is entirely reliable and will never fail. Reader, we defy you to find a case so obstinate that Mann's Ague Balsam will not cure; we do not hesitate to say that the remedy so long sought has at length been found that will never fail. See the following:

Oberlin, Ohio, June 1st, 1858.
Messrs. S. K. Mann & Co.—Gents: Having had occasion to use some of your Ague Balsam in my family, I find it the most prompt and efficient remedial agent for the certain cure of ague ever used, and as a strengthening tonic I think it has no equal.
Your Ob't Serv't,
SAM'L HENDRY.

Olney, Ill., September 20, 1857.
Messrs. S. K. Mann & Co.—Gents: Your Ague Balsam is the only remedy that seems to meet the wants of the people of this locality. We have ours upon all the popular remedies of the day for the cure of intermittents, but Dr. Mann's Balsam sells in preference to all others, from the simple fact that it cures. It is destined to excel all other remedies ever offered. Truly Yours,
G. W. HAYS.

Dr. Mann & Co., Gallon, Ohio—Gents: Your Ague Balsam is the people's own remedy, in this part of the country, for the cure of ague and fever. We have never known it to fail in any case when properly used. It is looked upon as a perfect antidote to malarious diseases.
Very Truly Yours, REED & PETTIJOHN.
Cairo, Ill., May 15th, 1858.

Seymour, Ind., April 30, 1858.
Messrs. S. K. Mann & Co., Gallon, Ohio—Gentlemen: I would say for the benefit of all concerned, that I have a little daughter, about six years of age, that has had the chills ever since last fall; we could do nothing with it until we received your Balsam. We commenced giving it according to directions and are happy to state that she has not had a chill since she commenced taking it. I shall use my exertions to have it introduced, and will give your Balsam a circulation in the bounds of my influence.
Respectfully Yours, N. P. EDWARDS.

These Gums remove all morbid or bad matter from the system, supplying in their place a healthy flow of bile invigorating the stomach, causing food to digest well, purifying the blood, giving tone and health to the whole machinery, removing the cause of the disease—effecting a radical cure.
Billious attacks are cured, and, what is better prevented by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.
One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach and prevent the food from rising and souring.
Only one dose taken before retiring, prevents nightmare.
Only one dose taken at night, loosens the bowels gently, and cures costiveness.
One dose taken after each meal will cure Dyspepsia.
One dose of two teaspoonfuls will always relieve sick Headache.
Only one dose immediately relieves Colic, while
One dose often repeated is a sure cure for Cholera Morbus, and a preventative of Cholera.
Only one bottle is needed to throw out of the system the effects of medicine after a long sickness.
One bottle taken for Jaundice removes all sallowness or unnatural color from the skin.
One dose taken a short time before eating gives vigor to the appetite and makes the food digest well.
One dose, often repeated, cures Chronic Diarrhoea in its worst form, while Summer and Bowel Complaints yield almost to the first dose.

FEVER AND AGUE
Cured Without Arsenic or Quinine!
DR. LEEDS' QUININE SUBSTITUTE, or NERVE TONIC, is a positive cure for Chills and Fever,
And all diseases arising from derangement of the Nervous System, and very successful in preventing
YELLOW, PANAMA AND CHAGRES FEVERS.
The recipe was discovered by a practicing physician, and is, therefore, entitled to the same confidence as any other physician's prescription; a single trial will prove its efficacy. One bottle, in ordinary cases of Fever and Ague, will effect a cure. All that is asked is a fair trial. All who have used it speak loudly in its praise. Read the circular.

Olney, Ill., September 20, 1857.

Messrs. S. K. Mann & Co.—Gents: Your Ague Balsam is the only remedy that seems to meet the wants of the people of this locality. We have on sale ourselves, all the popular remedies of the day for the cure of intermittents, but Dr. Mann's Balsam sells in preference to all others, from the simple fact that it cures. It is destined to exceed all other remedies ever offered. Truly Yours, G. W. HAYNE.

Mann & Co., Gallon, Ohio—Gents: Your Ague Balsam is the people's own remedy in this part of the country for the cure of ague and fever. We have never known it fail in any case when properly used. It is looked upon as a perfect antidote to malarious diseases. Very Truly Yours, REED & PETTIJOHN. May 15th, 1858.

Seymour, Ind., April 20, 1856.

S. K. Mann & Co., Gallon, Ohio—Gentlemen: I for the benefit of all concerned, that I have a daughter, about six years of age, that has had the ague ever since last fall; we could do nothing with it, but received your Balsam. We commenced giving it according to directions and are happy to state that she has had a chill since she commenced taking it. I will continue my exertions in the bounds of my influence to give your Balsam a circulation. Respectfully Yours, N. P. EDWARDS.

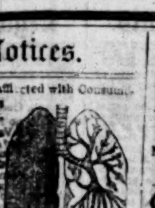
Special Notices.



Has Returned.—To persons afflicted with Consumption, Asthma, Dyspepsia, Diseases of the Heart, Female Derangements, and other Chronic Diseases. In compliance with the request of many of his friends and former patients, Dr. E. Reading has returned from St. Louis on the 1st of July, and will remain at his rooms in Chicago, two months only, previous to going to New Orleans.

He is the founder of a new system of treatment for these diseases, which has proved, in this city as well as others, to be the most scientific and successful one now before the public. Knowing that the country is filled with various kinds of nostrum—venders whose unscrupulous course has prejudiced the public against improvement in medicines, cordially invites unprejudiced physicians and invalids to call and examine his system of treatment, (as it cannot be readily explained in print,) and judge of its merits for themselves. He will show letters from eminent physicians and others who have witnessed the great efficacy of his treatment, and who testify to his skill from personal knowledge. All persons placing themselves under his treatment during his present visit, will receive further attention, after his departure, from his partner, Dr. A. J. Mead, who will remain permanently in their rooms.

N. B.—Immediate attention is called to the above, as it will be impossible for the Doctor to extend his stay longer than two months on account of previous arrangements, and visitors are cautioned not to mistake his place of business. Office hours from 9 A. M. to 6 P. M.

Charles' London Cordial Gin.—The Original and only London Gin Imported. This Gin, distilled in London from grand Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the Vegetable Kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent medical men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic drink in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of Dyspepsia, Gout, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Gravel, Colic, Cholera, Fever and Ague, Stricture, Diseases of the Urinary Organs, the Kidneys and the Bowels, Nervous Debility, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to settlers in the Southern and Western States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and pints thirty-eight cents, by all Druggists, Grocers, Fruiterers, and Country Merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'. NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

May be had in Chicago, Ill., of PENTON, ROBINSON & SMITH, No. 15 South Water street; HAVEN, TYRRELL & CO., No. 57 South Water street.

Sawyer's Fluid Extract of Bark, an infallible remedy for the Fever and Ague, and the various forms of Bilious Diseases, Intermittent, Remittent, Chill Fever, and Dumb Ague, having their origin in malaria of very fertile and marshy districts, prepared by Dr. S. S. Sawyer, Druggist and Chemist, and sold by Sawyer Paige & Co. No. 16 Lake st., Chicago.

This remedy is prepared entirely from vegetable substances and contains no mercury, arsenic, or anything that can prove injurious to the system. Its effects are those of a deobstruent and tonic, well adapted to restore the healthy action of the Liver and Stomach, whose functions are so generally impaired in this class of diseases.

Quinine and other tonics serve only in many cases to break the chills, but do not remove the diseases of the liver and other organs implicated, on which the chill and fever depend; hence the usefulness of the "Fluid Extract of Bark," (particularly in regions where Physicians can not readily be consulted,) which contains all the qualities suited to the indications of these maladies.

Hundreds of testimonials in regard to the efficacy of the medicine, from persons of respectability, have been given to the proprietor—but he does not make use of them he prefers to have the medicine introduce itself securely by its merits.

Entered according to Act Congress in the year 1858, by Eugene Dupuy in the Clerk's Office of the District Court of the U. S. for the Southern District of New York.

NOTICE—THE PAST EIGHTEEN MONTHS' experience has given the citizens of Chicago ample proof that the soap process of cleansing gentlemen's clothes will not do, as practised by those inexperienced in the business. The fact of the matter is this, that unless your coats, vests and pants are dyed, cleaned and neatly repaired by men skilled in their vocation, they had far better never be touched at all—but when they are so operated upon by experienced workmen, it is certainly a great saving to the community at large, at the same time conducing much to the bodily comfort. Now, gentlemen, all of you that know the thing, know enough by this time to be fully convinced that the only true and reliable source of having your coats, vests and pants cleaned, neatly repaired and made to look like new, is by COOK & McLAIN'S Chemical process. It certainly does remove every spot of grease, paint, wax and tar, together with all blemishes and impurities to which such garments are liable. The spots are warranted not to reappear, as a beautiful finished lustre is put on as when first new.

Gentlemen, call at COOK & McLAIN'S and look at specimens of their coat dressing. If they fail to please you, no charge will be made.

An Excursion to Classic Ground—Visit to a Grotto—The Solfatara—A Puzzle for Geologists—The Bay of Baiæ—The Neapolitans and Italian Society in General—King Bomba, etc.

ROME, April 26, 1858.

I will recall in general terms one more excursion which we made from Naples, upon classic ground. We spent only one day in the interesting region encircling the Bay of Baiæ, including the Phlegrean Fields, the lakes of Avernus and Lucrinus and the Promontory of Misenum. At every turn the traveler is reminded of the Romans, their luxury, their superstitions and their greatness. The ruins of palaces and baths mark the places where stern warriors were transformed to effeminate epicures; tottering temples, shattered by frequent earthquakes, witnessed their idolatry and the deceit of their priests; theatres, amphitheatres, colossal fragments of ruins, all tell of the occupations and diversions of the imperial people.

We left Naples by the Grotto of Posilipo, an ancient tunnel pierced through a hill of rock by the Romans, and more than two thousand feet in length. Above the entrance is a circular ruin, called the Tomb of Virgil, and long venerated as such. It commands a scene of surpassing beauty, and seems to me a well-chosen spot for the repose of a great poet, especially of one who had derived his most beautiful images from the region which it overlooked and which surrounded it. Oil lamps were faintly burning, as we passed through the Grotto, and we drew our cloaks tighter about our shoulders for protection against the damp cold air. After this subterranean journey, how brightly shone everything in the early sunshine, how fresh and green appeared the foliage still wet with dew. Nature seemed to unfold suddenly her arms, cordially welcoming us to new scenes and pleasures. We soon reached Lake Aguano, and were immediately assailed by a crowd of ciceroni, custodi of ancient ruins, curiosities, grottos, and heaven knows what not. We suspected from their importunity that there was very little to be seen, and therefore hurried away from them as we would from a pack of wolves. In fact the only curiosity here is the Dog's Grotto, a dark vault or cistern, on the bottom of which is heavy poisonous gas that destroys life in a few minutes. A dog is thrown in, allowed to feel the pangs of death, then while yet a breath of life remains, is pulled out. The animal soon looses all elasticity, and becomes entirely indifferent to his fate. A lighted candle is immediately extinguished, and many other experiments are made, but as this phenomenon is well known, I need not enumerate them.

The next point of interest was the Solfatara, a semi-extinct volcano. The sunken crater has a thin crust, from which here and there escape small quantities of sulphurous vapor, like that of Vesuvius. The surface is covered with sulphur, alum, sulphate of lime, and other chemical substances, which together with the noxious gases that fill the air, make this an unpleasant neighborhood. We approached the largest aperture, from which the escaping smoke produced a sound like that of a locomotive with a high pressure of steam. The floor of this crater is supposed to cover a large vaulted chamber, from the fact that when a large stone is thrown upon it, a hollow echo is heard from beneath, and the ground fairly trembles under one's feet.

The singular volcanic action in the vicinity of Pozzuoli has furnished subjects for controversy among geologists and men of scientific pursuits for several centuries. It would seem as if this place were nearer the confines of the Lower Regions than men generally suppose, and that Virgil was not far from the truth, when he placed here the entrance to Hades by which Æneas visited the other world. Sea and land are here contending for supremacy: now one invades the enemy's territory, now the other struggles to regains its former dominions. The coast has several times been raised, and gradually sunken to its previous position. In 1538, during an earthquake, the sea is said to have retired 200 feet, and a mound, called Monte Nuovo 1½ miles in circumference and 440 feet high was formed in eight hours. I will mention one more instance, then refer you to numerous geologists who have attempted to explain these phenomena. In 1750 an ancient temple was excavated, a portion of which had already sunken below sea-level. It was proven that several alternate changes of elevation and subsidence had already taken place, from the marks left upon the mosaic pavement and columns. At present the building is sinking at the rate of one inch per year. It is fearful to think of the dangerous element so near, concealed by a thin treacherous surface; and we learn another lesson of the wisdom of Providence in the condition of the inhabitants, upon whom earthquakes, eruptions and other phenomena of nature do not seem to make the slightest impression.

Terror loses its power when the danger is not immediately present to their eyes and senses. Life among the lower classes is a mere succession of trials and discomforts. They labor from morning till night, and from day to day, without the least hope of advancing—theirs is a continual struggle for the means of subsistence. Their condition may be well illustrated by that of a man in deep water, clinging to a cake of ice to keep from immediately drowning. When we see a community of people like these, at the very bottom of the scale of human progress, hopelessly chained there, not daring to look up towards a higher spirit, our first feeling of pity for them is mingled with resentment towards those who have elevated themselves by the means of their necks. Every inch of available soil is cultivated, and yet thousands of men beg their daily bread.

I must overlook the scenes that surrounded the Bay of Baiæ, for the present, and pass by the innumerable ruins, places of poetical and historical interest, &c., because it would require a thick volume to do them justice.

I will now, in taking leave of Naples, give my impressions, in a few words, of the general condition of the Neapolitans, their resources, their habits, &c. They may be divided into three classes; the first comprising members of fashionable society, which has the court for its center, that is, those who have titles and sufficient money to support their pretensions; the second or middle class, including tradesmen, small proprietors, and men who, in comfortable circumstances, live for pleasure; and the third, by far the most numerous class, made up of hard working men, loungers and beggars. The nobles derive their revenues, which are often immense, from hereditary estates. The rights of primogeniture are more strictly observed here perhaps than in any other country. Until a recent date it was the custom, I may say the law, to bequeath the entire estates of a house to the first-born son, so that the younger sons were obliged either to obtain a lucrative office under the government, or live by their wits. The daughters were taught to regard marriage as the great, the sole aim of life, toward which they were urged by fear of imprisonment in the walls of a convent. By a recent law each daughter receives a pittance, and younger sons are better provided for, but the general effects are the same. The consequence is that there exists a large number of purse-proud aristocrats, who pompously display wealth that should be used in developing the resources of the country. Their chief study and occupation seem to be to find the most agreeable mode of killing time. For this purpose they bring into requisition religious ceremonies, the pleasures of the table, theatre, evening entertainments, drives before dinner in the fashionable quarter, and in the summer the villegiatura, or sojourn of two or three months in their country villas. Thus runs the tide of life among the fashionable, thus continues this monotonous existence which to a Saxon or a descendant from the Teutonic races would be absolutely insupportable.

The people of the middle class for the most part are able to read, write, and execute the technical requirements of a profession. Further than this they are not allowed to go. Free thinking and free acting are alike prohibited, as the numerous prisons, crowded with political offenders, many of whom were merely suspected of seditious intentions, amply testify. They know well their position, and are very careful not to overstep its limits. They can thrive only by paying homage to the rich, and the consequence is that nine-tenths of them are hypocrites. Their faces have three stereotyped expressions, one for the rich, another for their equals, and a third for their inferiors. Nothing is more disgusting to a man of tender nerves and common sense, than to be treated with grinning and hand-licking politeness by tradesmen and hotel keepers, who only await a favorable opportunity to deprive you of your last cent. Still whatever of honesty or uprightness remains in the nation belongs to the middle class. Theirs are the only busy heads and busy hands, so that we may well forgive them the few worse qualities that are forced upon them. Everything that has the least spirit of enterprise, they are taught to regard as forbidden fruit. The government retains for itself the right of carrying on the most profitable manufactures; it monopolizes the railroads, steamboat and diligence lines, post-horses and telegraphs, and fills its pockets from a thousand sources which in England or America are free to all who are enterprising. The only speculation in which they are permitted to engage is the buying of lottery tickets, and it is well known that the immense profits derived from the lottery business are used to oil the machinery of government. How then can we expect to find business activity or enterprise among them?

It is for this reason that these Italians are so gay and thoughtless. Entirely cut off from the higher pursuits of life, pleasure alone remains and deep and long are the draughts they take. Next in order comes the common herd, the lowest of all in a social or intellectual point of view. The most ignorant, the most stupid human beings that I have ever met, do not equal these in ignorance and stupidity. In them the divine spark seems to be wholly extinguished, and the brute element alone to be left. Among the hard working people I have rarely seen a genuine smile or heard a hearty laugh. A heavy burden, as it were, oppresses mind as well as body. From the cradle to the grave, labor; dull, monotonous, beastly labor is their sole occupation and their sole diversion. Enjoyment they have not, unless it be that which a mule must feel in contemplating a peck of oats and a straw bed, after the days' labor is finished.

It is sad to see women and children, of both sexes bearing heavy burdens that, in the former, turn nature from its proper course, and in the latter stunt the growth and impair the health. The younger children, not yet strong enough to attempt a contest with the world, are rolled up in a bundle of rags, like Egyptian mummies, and are placed in out of the way corners, while the old grandmother (generally in Italy the most repulsive hag, bearing the marks of hard labor and strong passions) stands in the doorway, with distaff in hand, presiding over household affairs. Laboring men rarely receive more than twenty cents per day, women about half as much. Eight cents are required to satisfy the inner man, and the remainder is swallowed up by the family, if he is so unfortunate as to have one. With regard to clothing, one suit, if we may judge from appearances, lasts, by dint of mending, patching, &c., during about one generation.

The usual pursuits are agricultural; railroad building, manufacturing &c., constituting the exceptional. Cultivation is in most parts carried to great perfection, but the same grinding influence that is at work in the cities exists in the country.

Rich proprietors who flatter like the gay-colored butterflies around the court, and live in magnificent palaces, must have their revenues at the proper time, whether poor tenants suffer thereby or not. Nine-tenths of the available land is owned by men who think it would be a disgrace to make a mathematical calculation, who follow the same routine of life which their ancestors pursued, and supposing that the same estates are as available now as two centuries ago, they don't bother their weak heads further about the matter.

I have met and conversed with men from every sphere of society, and perhaps my personal experience will not be without interest. On the way from Naples to Rome the diligence received a new passenger at Capua. He was a tall, pompous looking man, who seemed to think the world made for his especial benefit. We made some remonstrances with the conductor for admitting more persons than could seat themselves comfortably, which somewhat discomfited our friend, as he had probably never before met individuals of our unpretending appearance who did not bow down before his superior claims. He was, therefore, inclined to play the agreeable before such strange beings, and commenced by informing us that he was Intendente or governor of Salerno and the surrounding country; that he was on his way to Gaeta to receive private instructions from the King. Urging him on by an occasional remark, we soon learned from him the salaries of nearly every public officer, from prime minister to village magistrate; he gave us a long list of men and things within his territories, not forgetting an item which could increase our respect for him, or add a star to his crown of glory. Thus he continued talking during the entire journey, never bending from his stiff disagreeable egotism. In several villages he met well dressed men of the middle class, who bowed, kissed his hand, and in every respect treated him as if he had been a demi-god. To these marks of politeness, almost approaching worship, he neither bent his head, nor by the faintest shadow of a smile indicated his acknowledgment of them. On the other hand, because we were foreigners he grinned after the most approved fashion, and deigned to place himself on the same social level with us for the time being. This was an Intendente, of the first rank, as he pompously told us, who received a salary of $3,000 per annum.

We also became acquainted with a glove maker, who was in every respect a true type of the middle-class in Naples. He made queer gestures, strained the muscles of the face into every considerable variety of expression, talked more with his hands than with his lips, and was to us, coming from the North, decidedly an original character. He was a man of fifty years, full of life and enjoyment for everything, but withal a shrewd, honest fellow. He had fifteen children, the mother of whom was still blooming, and he boasted of it as the strongest argument in favor of his Bella Napoli—an argument which Napoleon would certainly have appreciated. He was continually asking me how I found the eating in Naples, how much I paid for my dinner, &c., and then he would enumerate all the places where particular titbits could be obtained. When I was one day in his shop, several persons entered. One was a fine noble looking boy, obliged to stitch gloves to support aged or infirm parents. He had brought no recommendation, and therefore was not accepted. Another was a woman in mourning, who brought two pairs of gloves as specimens. They were pulled and jerked and examined closely by a rough clerk, while the poor woman looked on with breathless anxiety, lest a single misplaced stitch should betray and condemn her work. The highest price which the best sewer can gain per day is 12 cents, just enough to keep soul and body together. This gives a faint glimpse of the miseries that are rankling in the heart of this great city.

I might give many more personal examples, but these will suffice to show the relative position of the three classes.

Now, with regard to education, it is entirely in the hands of priests and monks, who themselves come from the lowest class, as a general thing. The youth of the country are educated by men whose faint ideas are further obscured by a shade of superstition, and perverted by religious deceptions. Children hear nothing but cant, and learn nothing but the names of saints, until they leave the presence of their dark-robed angels, when, the bright world suddenly displaying its charms, they ride fast on the foaming tide of life. Laborers' children receive no education, either from want of inclinatiom, or through necessity, and you can hardly find one who would be able to distinguish the difference between A. and B.

Notwithstanding that the government is supported by ignorance and bigotry—the two most powerful elements in the Kingdom of the Two Sicilies—King Ferdinand is not sure that his head rests firmly on his shoulders. The peasantry hate him with a deadly hatred, and I have heard many of them express it openly. At present he is in Gaeta, in his strongest fortress, while his kingdom is guarded by more than 100,000 soldiers. His best ships are within hailing distance, so that one way of escape is open to him, and 10,000 Swiss mercenaries are ready to guard his person. A strong proof of the insecurity of his State, and of his personal fear, may be learned from the fact that the castles and prisons are full of political offenders.

Yours truly, FRED W. MATTESON.

PAYING FOR A KISS.—The Aledo Record gets off a good one in regard to a citizen of Iowa, whose wife, in his absence, while giving him a glass of water, had been kissed by a drover. When he heard of the outrage he started at once in pursuit, found the drover after a hard day's ride and accused him of the theft.—The drover admitted the truth of the soft impeachment—said he had been a long time from home was sorely tempted, and in an unguarded moment of frenzy purloined the kiss; but that he had not damaged the woman in the smallest particular—was extremely sorry—thought it was not a matter to make a great ado apout, and begged to be excused. The husband finally concluded that this was the right view of the matter, and agreed to settle it upon the receipt of $5 for his day's ride. This being satisfactory all round, the drover handed over a $10 bill and recieved five in change. But when the aggrieved benedict returned home and consulted his detector, he found the bill counterfeit. He found he had suffered the indignity of having his wife kissed by a 'nasty drover,' passed one day in the saddle, and lost five dollars, and concluded that it didn't pay.

EYE AND EAR.
DR. UNDERWOOD,

FORMERLY OF THE EYE AND EAR Infirmary of Louisville, Ky., and more recently Physician and Surgeon to the Eye and Ear Infirmary, Columbus, Ohio, and author of a "New System of Treating Diseases of the Eye and Ear without the use of the Knife," would announce that he has permanently established an Infirmary in the city of Chicago, Illinois, at SEVENTY-THREE South Clark street, where he will remain in order to afford to those afflicted with diseases of the Eye and Ear, an opportunity of being treated by a system which is entirely new, perfectly safe, and has never been known to fail in effecting permanent cures, especially in all cases of Opthalmia (or inflammation of the eye) whether acute or chronic, whether catarrhal, purulent, scrofulous, or rheumatic. It will also remove all Opacities of the Cornea, whether of a nebulous or albuginous character, or any other external scum, film, or extraneous substance, from the sight of the Eye. The new mode of treatment has never failed of curing Ptergyium, Staphyloma and Amaurosis, and has even succeeded in removing Cataract from the Eye, whether Capsular or Lenticular, in a great majority of cases, without the use of the knife or needle.

He has been equally successful in his treatment of Diseases of the Ear, with his new system. For skill and success in his profession, the Doctor directs those interested to the following well known citizens of Columbus, Ohio: Capt. F. M. Lilley; Judge Rankin, Capt. Wm Willis, Rev. Dr. Hulburd, of the Presbyterian Church; and the following members of the Ohio Legislature: Hon. Dr. Flower of Perry county, Hon. Patrick Thompson of Coshocton county, Hon. Mr. Johnson of Hocking, Hon. J. A. Bell of Medina county; all of whom are personally acquainted with the Doctor's success.

LIGHT!! MORE LIGHT!!
EVERY FAMILY THEIR OWN GAS MAKER.
NO CHEMICAL HUMBUG.

THE UNDERSIGNED HAVE MADE EXtensive arrangements for supplying any store, public house or private dwelling in the city or suburbs with

J. W. Smith's New Patent Gas Generator.

By means of this exceedingly simple, cheap and convenient arrangement, any family can have, at a cost not to exceed one-fourth the cost of the city gas, a gas far more brilliant and white, and not at all offensive. This is none of the chemical humbugs with which the country is flooded, but genuine Gas, manufactured by means of a simple arrangement (lately patented) made to attach to any gas pipe, to be used with ordinary gas burners.

THINGS YOU WILL AVOID BY USING THIS GAS.

1st—Three-fourths of all expense.
2d—All offensive odor.
3d—Uncertain and poor light.
4th—The annoyance of defective metres, monthly gas bills, advance deposits, &c.

The following are among the many certificates we have from those using this Gas:

Washington City, D. C., July 1st, 1858.

This may certify that we have been using John W. Smith's Portable Gas Generator, to light our store, which has 15 burners, using from 5 to 6 feet per hour to each burner, making the gas every night as we want it. We find this new invention to be a valuable one. For economy, safety and brilliancy it by far exceeds every other light now extant. Our gas bill from the Gas Company in this city averaged $26 per month, when this (Smith's) Gas has not cost over $4 or $5 amounth, and producing a much stronger and purer light. Our experience with it since the 1st of February last warrants us in recommending it to all that may wish a cheap and safe light.

E. TUCKER & BRO., Pennsylvania avenue.

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.—The undersigned are now using in their store, 74 State street one of J. W. Smith's Portable Gas Generators, and from experiments carefully made by us we are well satisfied that the cost of gas made by this apparatus will not exceed one-fourth the expense of the city gas for an equal number of burners, the capacity of the burners being equal. The light is also whiter and more brilliant, and without offensive odor. The apparatus is exceedingly simple and cheap, and the process of making the gas within the comprehension of the most ordinary mind, all of which facts we shall be happy to demonstrate to any person who may wish, by their calling at our store, 74 State street, at any time between eight o'clock A. M. and nine o'clock P. M. BEECHER & POWELL.

It is constructed in a neat, simple, though scientific manner, and its advantages are that it makes deliciously fragrant coffee, even if used by unskilful hands, and retains all the aroma of the berry, that usually escapes in steam when cooked in the old-fashioned way. The draught which it makes is nectar compared with that of old-time coffee pots."

COMMERCIAL.

Commercial and Money Matters.

THURSDAY EVENING, Aug. 5.

MONEY, &c.—To-day there has been a general rejoicing in commercial circles because of the success of the Atlantic Cable, and as we write, one hundred guns are being fired off in honor of the great event. The office of the British Consulate, the Telegraph office, Tremont House and other buildings, besides the shipping, have been decorated with the flags of the United States and Great Britain.

There was no change in money matters to-day. Eastern exchange is still in good demand at 1¼ per cent. prem. Discounts easy and currency abundant.

There is a war in St. Louis between the State Bank of Missouri and the Savings' Banks of that city, because of the refusal of the former to redeem the bills of its branches at St Louis. The result is that the bills of the Branch Banks have been protested. The Evening News of yesterday, relative to the matter, says:

As we stated two days ago, it is the purpose of the Savings Institutions, by this movement, to compel the banks to redeem their Branch notes in St. Louis. Their city notes, of course, the banks never hesitate to redeem, on any demand, and in any sums presented. The question involved is, first a legal one, whether the Banks of the city are required, by the wording of the law, to redeem their Branch notes, in coin, after having taken them on deposit. In other words, can a depositor place Branch Bank notes in a Bank to his credit and immediately check on the Bank for their amount in coin. The latter is claimed by the Savings Institutions; and hence their demand and the protests. But the assumption is denied by the Banks, and hence their refusal to pay, in coin, checks drawn against a deposit of Branch notes.

COMMERCIAL.—The Breadstuffs markets still continue buoyant and active. The receipts of all kinds of produce are very light,—the farmers generally being too busy harvesting to bring in their grain. Flour is very scarce, with an active demand. A large proportion of the mills in this State and Iowa are stopped so as to make repairs previous to commencing work on new wheat. The sales to-day were very limited, at $3.77@4 25 for common to choice Spring rates. Wheat was buoyant and active at a shade higher prices. Upwards of 95,000 bushels changed hands, opening at 73 for No. 2 in store, but advancing during the day to 75@76c—at which figures it closes firm. No. 1 White Winter Wheat sold at $1.02½ per bu; and a lot of choice No. 1 Red Winter sold at $1.00. Corn was in good demand and advanced 1@3c. About 65,000 bushels changed hands at 70c all [illegible] for Canal; 65@67c in store for No. 1; 60@62c in store for No. 2, and 55c in store for Rejected. There was a more active inquiry for No. 2 than for any other grade. Oats advanced 1@2c, with sales of about 12,000 bushels at 41@43c in store—closing firm at the latter quotation. Rye and Barley unchanged. There was an active demand for Highwines to-day, and nearly all in market were sold at 22c. Wool is quiet. Hides steady. Provisions dull.

Freights are still low. Vessels were chartered to-day at 4½c for wheat to Thorold; and 6@6½c for corn to Ogdensburgh.

The tendency of Oats at Cincinnati is still upward. The Commercial of yesterday says: "The speculative demand for Oats continues "active, and all offered were taken to-day at "52c The tendency is still upwards. The re-"ceipts are quite liberal, but the confidence in "high rates is unabated."

The total amount of Pork and Beef in store in New York and Brooklyn on the 1st inst., was as follows: Pork. 38,182 bbls; Beef, 9,456 bbls. The amount in store on 1st August 1857 was: Pork, 84,407 bbls; Beef, 180,027 bbls.

Ocean Freights at New York are thus quoted by the Courier and Enquirer of Monday:

To Liverpool, 20,000 bu Grain 5d in bulk; 2,000 bbls Flour 1s 7½d, 150 bxs Cheese 20s; 100 bales Cotton, 3 16d; 6,000 Staves 25s. To London, 150 tons Oil Cake, 16s; 5,000 bu Wheat in bags 8d. To Glasgow, 1,000 bbls Flour 2-4½d; 700 bbls Rosin, 2s 9d. To Antwerp, 1,000 bbls Flour, 2s 3d.

BREADSTUFFS IN CINCINNATI.

From the Cincinnati Gazette, 4th.

We have still to notice very meagre receipts of produce, but there are now some indications of an increase in the immediate future. The offerings of grain for forward delivery have, within the last few days, been quite fair. Still, producers are [illegible] with much firmness with a view if possible, to force better prices. The receipts of flour and grain last week, and for the corresponding week last year, compare thus:

	Last week.	Same week last year.
Barley, bu	650	338
Corn, bu	14,343	15,8 2
Flour, bbls	5,374	1,666
Oats, bu	22,074	1,792
Wheat, bu	26,278	8,019

It is seen that although current receipts are very light, they are heavier than at the corresponding date last year. Then, however supplies of old stocks in the country had been about exhausted, while now the surplus remaining from the crop of 1857 is large. The prices current on the 4th of August 1857 and 1858 were:

	1857.	1858.
Barley, bu	$0.80@1 00	$0.55@0.60

Oats, bu	.60@ .65	.52

THE CROPS.

PIERCEVILLE, Dekalb Co., Ill., Aug. 2, 1858.

Editors Press and Tribune:

I take this opportunity to write to you concerning the crops throughout De Kalb and the west part of Kane. The farmers all complain of poor wheat, the rust and blight having injured quite and a number of fields so that they will not pay for harvesting. I know of several pieces of Canadian club that will not be cut. This kind has suffered the most of any by the blight or scab, it has been estimated, as far as I can learn, that there will not be a half crop in De Kalb and Kane Counties. Oats are even worse than wheat—badly injured by the rust. Barley the same. Corn looks well—remarkably well considering the wet spring. Potatoes bid fair for a good yield if they escape the rot. As we meet our neighbor farmers we behold many wry faces, especially of late.

We have had a tremendous rain, commencing Friday evening, the 30th, and continuing until Sunday morning, pouring down in torrents almost without intermission, accompanied with awful gusts of wind, which have done some considerable damage to corn and standing grain. Our wheat will again be damaged a great deal by these rains, for there is a great amount cut, but very little stacked, and before it can dry out there will be a great deal ground. The samples of wheat that will come to Chicago this fall, I am afraid will look bad.

ROYAL WELLS.

The following letters are from the correspondence of the Commercial Agency of Messrs. JONES, JR., & Co.:

WARREN, JO DAVIS COUNTY, Ill., July 31st, 1858.

Wheat and Oats are both badly injured; there will not be more than from one third to one-half a crop in this region of country. Corn promises fair for a good average crop. There are some complaints about Potatoes; how extensive we cannot tell.

TOLEDO, TAMA CO., Iowa, July 29, 1858.

Crops in this county promised very well, but lately all small grain has failed very much. Wheat, Oats and Rye, will not yield more than one fourth of a crop. Corn and Chinese Sugar Cane looks very fine indeed—better than last year at this time. If there is nothing happens these two will be a good crop in this county. A considerable amount of the Corn has been planted. Many of our farmers will not reap their wheat and oats, others only a part, but occasionally whole crop is good. With the old wheat our county will have a home supply and some for market, but this is spoiling, however, from the excessive dampness created by the never-ceasing rain.

KENOSHA, Kenosha Co., Wis., Aug. 3d, 1858.

Wheat will not be over one-third of a crop. Corn and potatoes tolerable. Oats a dead failure.

MT CARROLL, Carroll Co., Ill., July 31, 1858.

The wheat crop seems to be coming in very poor. There will be scarcely half a crop this year.

GOSHEN, Elkhart Co., Ind., Aug. 3d, 1858.

Mediterranean wheat, which is mostly grown here, is good. White wheat is injured by the rust, but, on the whole, it is full or better than average crop. Too wet for oats, and it is struck by the rust not more than half a crop. Corn is late and but little planted. If all there planted matures, there cannot be much beyond half a crop. Potatoes look well. Spring wheat a failure.

DAVENPORT, Scott Co., Iowa, Aug. 3, 1858.

There is no mistake about the crops in this county. Wheat will not be more than one-third of a crop. Oats also short. Corn and grass [illegible]

[illegible] the Loda (Iroquois Co. Ill.) Garden State, 2d.

So far as this locality is concerned, the crops of fall and spring wheat, oats and barley, are a failure. Occasionally a field of spring or fall wheat has escaped the rust, midge, spot, weevil, Hessian fly and the deluge, for these causes have been in active operation to depress the hopes of the farmer. But we do not know of a field of oats or barley which will pay the cost of harvesting. Indeed much of the wheat which has been harvested will not more than defray the expense of harvesting and threshing.

It is yet too early to speak of corn prospects. The limited amount planted, a portion is looking indifferently well; and some of it is quite up to the growth of last year at this time; but it will require a very favorable fall to mature the crop so as to make anything like an average yield for the acres planted. We learn that in [illegible]," where the wheat has done moderately well, the corn looks as unpromising as Douglas' [illegible] prospects.

Commercial Circulars by the Persia

PER PERSIA.] [LIVERPOOL, July 23.

We have to report this week a very heavy import list, consisting of 334,147 bush is Wheat, 97,296 bushels Flour, from the States and Canada; 8,162 quarters Wheat, 694 sacks Flour from France; 4 325 quarters Wheat from the Baltic; 2,00 quarters Wheat, 11,64 quarters Corn from the Mediterranean and Black Sea.

Farmers deliveries of Wheat for the week ending last Saturday were, 91,232 quarters, at 4s 3d. against 81 704 quarters, at 63s 8, in the corresponding week of last year.

The weather continues all that could be desired by Farmers; some early districts in the South reaping has commenced.

[illegible] the Grain Trade has, since Tuesday, ruled very dull and at to-day's market, with a small attendance of buyers wheat meat a most limited enquiry, the few retail sales being made at a decline of 1d per bushel. Flour exceedingly slow of sale, and offered on easier terms. Indian Corn—The demand seems to have quite disappeared; Yet we can be had at a reduction of 6d to 1s per quarter; White nominally as before. We quote—Wheat Red, Chicago, 5s 5d@5s 6; Milwaukee 5s 7d@5 8d; Indiana and Southern 6s 6d@3; White Canadian and western, 6s@6s 4d; Southern 6s 9d@7s 3d 8d per 70 lbs. Flour—Philadelphia and Baltimore. 22@22s 6d; extra Ohio, via Norf., 2s@23s; via New Orleans, 23s@24s; extra Fancy, St. Louis 24@25; western, 21@21s 6d; extra [illegible] Indian Corn—[illegible] w 33s 6; White, prime North, 33s@33s 6d; New Orleans 27@32s per 480 lbs.

There was a very thin attendance of millers and dealers at to-day's market, and the business passing in wheat was of the most retail character, at a decline of fully 2d per bush from the quotations of Friday last. Prices are—for good, and City American may be quoted from 5s 3d to 5s 6d; Milwaukee, 5s 7d to 5 8d; Southern Red from 6s 1 to 6s 7d, and white from 6s to 6s 3d or common, up to 7s 4, to 6s 6d, for good. A very fine parcel of New Orleans white brought 8s 2d per 70 lb. Flour was much neglected, and to effect sales less money would have been taken; a decline of 6d per bbl must therefore be quoted. Indian corn was quite neglected, although offered at a reduction of fully 6d per quarter; fine white being obtainable at 32s 6d to 32s 9d, and yellow 33s to 33s 6d per 480 lb.

A. F. & R. MAXWELL.

LIVERPOOL, July 23.

PROVISIONS—About 400 boxes Bacon were taken for Ireland this week—but the reduced prices do not tempt English buyers, who are over supplied with home cured; these is not wanted. A fair business has been done in Beef at previous rates. Pork is without change. Hams and Shoulders have met moderate attention at declining rate.

BACON—Long Middles—Rib in	44s to 46s	per cwt.
Short Middles	44 to 46s	"
C Cut	43s to 45s	"
CHEESE—Fine	48s to 52s	"
Ordinary to fair	2 s to 38s	"

India	10s to 0s	more.
PORK—Prime Mess, new	80s to 82s 6d	"
SHOULDERS	26s to 3 s 61	"

LARD receives very little attention—there is no demand for R [illegible].

TALLOW is scarcely steady at 48s to 50s

JAMES M'HENRY & Co.

LIVERPOOL, July 23, 1858.

The continued large arrivals of Beef, and the depressed state of the shipping interest, cause in the market for this article an unusual state of apathy, and the dealers buy most sparingly; holders are free sellers, but feel disinclined to submit to any further reduction.

Some small parcels of Western Pork have arrived, but are not yet landed; they come to a bare market.

Holders of Bacon having met buyers freely a decline of about 2s per cwt on last week's reduction, the transactions are of a more extensive character than for some time past, and should the retail trade show that this decline has improved the consumption, the stock, which is only moderately large, may prove less burdensome than was anticipated.

At rather high prices the sales of Lard are on a larger scale, reaching to nearly 150 tons, holders showing little anxiety to go on unless at a further advance.

Tallow is lower 1s to 2s per cwt, with a fair demand and free sellers.

Linseed Cake is scarce and dearer.

Port Items.

☞ A government steam dredge has been brought up from Milwaukee and is now at work at the extremity of the North Pier, preparing ground for the foundation for the new light house.

☞ It is decided to station the revenue cutter A V Brown at this port and she will probably be here by the 15th inst. She is said to be a fine boat, in size about 60 tons and a fast sailer. She is officered as follows: Captain Mitchell and Lieutenants Underwood and De Lagnel.

☞ The propeller Galena arrived yesterday afternoon with about 100 tons of freight and 100 passengers. The propeller lines are doing a fine business this season in the passenger traffic.

☞ The bark Great West left yesterday for Buffalo with 26,424 bu corn. This vessel measures 776 tons and carries 14 hands.

Disasters.

☞ We learn that the propeller Montgomery of the Collingwood line, now two days over due at this port, broke her cross head last Monday when off the Manitous. She was towed to South Manitou dock by the propeller Hunter. Capt. Nicholson started immediately for Buffalo for a new cross head.

☞ We saw yesterday evening the following dispatch:

HAMILTON, August 5th:

S. H. BUTLER, Esq.: Bark R. H. Rae capsized yesterday forenoon by a hurricane 40 miles from Kingston and sunk—royal yards above water. RAE BROTHERS & Co.

The Rae sailed from this port on the 20th ult. with 16,000 bu of wheat for Montreal. She was owned by Rae Brothers & Co., Hamilton, C. W, and we presume insured. The cargo is understood to be insured in New York.

☞ The schooner Orkney was lying at Munger & Armour's dock, was struck by lightning during the storm of night before last. The lightning followed the main mast down, ripping up part of the deck. Her fore top mast and yards were also broken. Seven persons were asleep on board at the time, yet none were injured.

☞ The schooner Blue Bell was brought in yesterday morning by the McQueen. She had on a cargo of wood and suffered no damage by her late accident save the loss of her main boom. Considerable difficulty was experienced in lighting her and she was obliged to be supported between two other vessels while being pumped out.

☞ Our dispatches yesterday morning contained the fact that the steamer Telegraph, of the Cleveland and Pt Burwell (Canada) line, was sunk by collision with the schr Marquette, on Monday night, on Lake Erie. Since then we have had the following particulars of this disaster The Telegraph was bound for Port Burwell and the collision occurred about 40 miles from Cleveland. It was raining violently and the darkness was intense. The Telegraph's weather bow was smashed and she was otherwise so severely injured that she immediately began to fill. The passengers and crew had barely time to escape half naked to the Telegraph's two small boats. One or two of the passengers succeeded in saving some of their baggage but the most of them lost almost everything they had with them. The steamer quickly went down. The passengers and crew were tossed about at the mercy of the angry waves, the rain continuing pitilessly the while, for about two hours and a half, when the schooner succeeded in finding and picking them up. They were well and kindly cared for by the officers of the Marquette, which vessel arrived with them at Cleveland early Tuesday morning.

The Marquette was bound from Buffalo to Toledo. The steamer Telegraph was a small, well-built and well-appointed boat. She was eight years old, nearly six of which she had been run in the Cleveland and Canada line, by Capt. Barrow, Capt. B. paid $8,000 for her six years ago. He valued her at considerably more than that sum. She was not insured, and is a total loss to Capt. Barrow.

The passengers and crew of the Telegraph thus express themselves:

OFF CLEVELAND, Aug 3, 1858.

The passengers and crew of the ill-fated steamboat which was run down and sunk by the schooner Marquette on the night of the 3d of August, on Lake Erie, held a meeting in the cabin of the schooner Marquette, of Cleveland, when it was unanimously resolved that the passengers and crew present their unbounded gratitude and thanks to Capt. Wm. P. Maguire, first officer J. S. Keough, second officer Edward Jeffers and the crew of the schooner Marquette for the promptness and disregard of [illegible] with which they came to the assistance of the undersigned during a gale of wind, when they were in open boats and in danger every moment of sinking; and the undersigned also are grateful for the hospitality and attention with which they were received on board the Marquette, and for the material aid which the half-dressed and ruined received from all of the officers and crew and it is hereby resolved that a copy of the foregoing be presented to Capt. Maguire as a mark of the gratitude of the undersigned.

Capt. R Barrow, Telegraph; Capt John Maxwell, J. W. Atkins, R. Simmonds, John Hough, Peter Reilley, John Taylor, John Steuart, Wm. Lites, David Cousins, Wm. Wood, Michael Carroll, Walter Williamson, A. Hainie, Catherine Dixon, Cintha Kavan, Wm. McCales, Charles Bradley, Col McCloud, Mrs Mary McCloud, S. Barrow, S. Williamson, John Lowrey.

Miscellaneous.

STEAM CANAL BOATS.—The subject of steam on the Canal is just attracting considerable attention in Buffalo, Besides the Charles Mack, a steamer called the P. L. Sternberg has left Buffalo for Rochester with 4,000 bu of wheat. The Advertiser says she draws 4 feet of water, and went down the creek at the rate of six or seven miles per hour. She is able to carry 5,000 bush Is.

The Albany Argus says Mr. Bell has modeled a steam tug which he expects will tow five or six canal boats from Buffalo to New-York and back in two weeks; and an Oswego canal boatman is having a propellor built for canal navigation, which he claims will be a perfect success.

On Friday next Gov. King and the Canal Commissioners meet for the purpose of observing the effect of steam navigation on the banks of the canal, and making such experiments as may assist in deciding on the practicability of the scheme.

LARGEST LOAD OF FLOUR EVER FLOATING ON THE ERIE CANAL.—The boat Sarah Paddock, of Medina, Capt. Rogers, belonging to Perry and Flanders' Transportation Line, arrived at Troy on Monday morning, 1,150 barrels of flour.—Buffalo Com. Adv.

SATURDAY MORNING, AUGU[illegible]

GRAND REPUBLICAN [illegible]

Senator TRUMBULL will addres[illegible] licans of Chicago, from the north[illegible] Tremont House, this evening [illegible] Let there be an old-fashioned tu[illegible] the invincible Republicans of [illegible] disprove the assertion of the Dr[illegible] gans that they are now abandon[illegible] ciples which have given them vi[illegible] rupted for two years. Let them [illegible] appreciation of Judge TRUMBU[illegible] service and fidelity to their cau[illegible] ning. COME ONE; COME ALL!

John Wentworth and the G[illegible]

The Democrat of yesterday [illegible] characteristically mean article re[illegible] Grand Jury and the Recorder's [illegible] have felt no disposition to take s[illegible] personal feeling which may ex[illegible] Judge Wilson and Mr. Wentwo[illegible] have not hesitated to speak our [illegible] freely when Judge Wilson has se[illegible] gle personal resentments with [illegible] duties. We would have the ben[illegible] rior to every weakness of th[illegible] standing upon the majesty of th[illegible] and dealing out justice with a[illegible] hand. We are free to confess, h[illegible] the provocation to which Judge [illegible] been subjected by the course [illegible] worth through his paper, goes ve[illegible] tenuate the appearance of any u[illegible] on his part as a judicial officer. [illegible] crat, on the other hand, has no ap[illegible] attempted interference with court[illegible] and if there is no law upon our [illegible] to restrain its unjustifiable cond[illegible] discloses a legitimate duty for c[illegible] gislature.

We know nothing of the mat[illegible] ing investigated by the Grand J[illegible] what is known by the public. If [illegible] worth has not been as he asserts, [illegible] connected with these matters, h[illegible] court investigation rather than st[illegible] it up, or to frighten Jurors from [illegible] discharge of their duty. If he w[illegible] of any delicacy at all he would [illegible] to the matter in his paper until [illegible] the investigation. But what we [illegible] to protest against, is his attemp[illegible] political turn to a strictly judic[illegible] ing. What has the Republican p[illegible] with John Wentworth's trials in C[illegible] John Wentworth think he sus[illegible] party to which he claims to [illegible] sponsible, in any way, for his [illegible] spondible him if the laws of [illegible] may take hold of him, and [illegible] harmless through? If he doe[illegible] greatly mistaken the character of [illegible]

We repeat, again, that we have [illegible] take sides in a personal controver[illegible] advise Mr. Wentworth to rely up[illegible] nies and testimony rather than up[illegible] mouth of his newspaper to vindi[illegible] before the courts. His stateme[illegible] Grand Jury is about equally divid[illegible] ly is not true. With only two or t[illegible] tions the members of that body ar[illegible] cans, and it is no compliment to [illegible] that their Republicanism is of q[illegible] questionable a character as their [illegible] worth.

More Mob Law in Peoria—A [illegible] Sacked and Destroye[illegible]

We learn from the Peoria Transc[illegible] a buggy containing a gentleman and [illegible] on its way to the Fair Grounds near [illegible] Thursday last, and while halting on [illegible] fore reaching the inclosure, it was [illegible] unknown cause attacked by severa[illegible] prostitutes from the notorious McGin[illegible] the lady rudely treated, and portio[illegible] garments torn from her person, in [illegible] exertions and resistance of her protec[illegible] as the unprovoked and brutal [illegible] came known on the Fair Grounds, a p[illegible] ficers with a number of citizens, pr[illegible] the house, and after much trouble an[illegible] sistance succeeded in arresting five [illegible] mates, who were lodged in the calabo[illegible] The story of the outrage having b[illegible] lated generally through the city, the p[illegible] came highly exasperated, and early in [illegible] ing a large party, including some of [illegible] citizens proceeded to the building, [illegible] built of brick, two stories in height, [illegible] deliberately moving out the goods [illegible] ture, set it on fire and leveled the wal[illegible] ground. It was one of the vilest de[illegible] city, and the majority of the peoples a[illegible] at its destruction, though many lamen[illegible] violence by which it was effected.

The Hillsboro Douglas Meet[illegible]

In a private note accompanying his [illegible] cation, our Hillsboro correspondent in[illegible] that the Douglas worshippers only clai[illegible] there were 3,000 people present to hea[illegible] speak, while the best judges put the nu[illegible] 1,800 to 2,000, of whom fully two-thi[illegible] women and children. The number o[illegible] present did not exceed 600, fully one[illegible] them good friends of Lincoln [illegible] there was a considerable sprinkling of [illegible] in attendance and more of them left [illegible] speech ended than when it began.

We expect the travelling puffer will [illegible] the Times that there were 10,000 pe[illegible] shouting for Douglas. That is his stan[illegible] ber and stereotyped phrase,—"10,00[illegible] shouting for Douglas."

The Westminster Revie[illegible]

The following is the table of conte[illegible] July number:

Calvin at Geneva; The Last Days [illegible] Rates; Domestic Annals of Scotland [illegible] Wiseman's "Recollections;" Medie[illegible] tion; Women Artists; Recent Astron[illegible] the Nebular Hypothesis; Contempora[illegible] ture.

No one of the Foreign Quarterlie[illegible] gerly read by men of advanced [illegible] as the Westminster. Always radical [illegible] has within the last few years carrie[illegible] calism into every sphere of critici[illegible] wields so trenchant a blade as to co[illegible] attention of the strongest thinker[illegible] hemispheres. Most of the papers in [illegible] number are marked with the usual no[illegible] ability. Published by Scott & Co., [illegible] street, New York. Sold by McNally [illegible] posite the Post Office.

The paragraph we copied from a Dav[illegible] per in relation to a destructive tornado [illegible] Fulton City and elsewhere, turns out [illegible] been founded on mere rumor. The Fu[illegible] Advertiser says:
